SENATE

TUESDAY, May 12, 1953.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. L. HERDMAN HARRIS, III, Rector of St. James Memorial Church, Titusville, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

O God, who knowest the weakness and corruption of our nature, and the manifold temptations which we daily meet, we humbly beseech Thee to have compassion on our infirmities, and to give us the constant assistance of Thy Holy Spirit, that we may be effectually restrained from sin and incited to our duty.

Imprint upon our hearts such a dread of Thy judgment and such a grateful sense of Thy goodness to us, as to make us both afraid and ashamed to offend Thee. Above all, keep in our minds a lively remembrance of that great day, in which we must give a strict account of our thoughts, words, and actions to Him whom Thou hast appointed the Judge of the quick and the dead, Thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen.

In the Senate, May 12, 1953.

Public education is one of the severest drains on the revenues of the Commonwealth and of local taxpayers. Despite the increase in State aid for public schools from $30,383,592.00 during the 1921-23 biennium to an estimated $325,009,404.00 during the 1951-53 biennium and in the total cost of public schools from $281,376,353.00 during 1921-23 to an estimated $846,254,220.00 for 1951-53, services provided for children in most school districts are inadequate. In addition, the cost of public school operation continues to rise and the need for further services increases.

It has been charged from time to time, that present systems of administration fail to produce the maximum and urgently needed services and that reprsentatives of the present systems have not been able, after three or more years of study to prepare corrective recommendations acceptable to public school administrators; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby instructed to conduct a study of administrative systems of public schools within territorial limits of counties from points of view of quality of programs; availability of specialized services and financial control; and to report to the next Regular Session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations, with such drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. McCUSKER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 12, 1953.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Wednesday, May 20, 1953 at three o'clock p. m., E.S.T., and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Wednesday, May 20, 1953 at three-thirty o'clock p. m., E.S.T.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I am about to present a resolution on behalf of the eighteen Members of the Senate who belong to the Minority. This action has been decided after reading the daily newspapers in which appeared a release, dated as of yesterday, under the signature of the Secretary of Welfare, William C. Brown.

Mr. President, I have known Secretary Brown for a few years, and I have always held a rather high opinion of the man's integrity and believed he possessed a great deal of ability. It came as quite a shock to me to realize that the man may not be well, because after reading this release, as of yesterday, in this morning's paper, I am compelled to believe that perhaps the statement made by my father a great many years ago has some truth in it. My dad told me when I was a boy that if a man rides a jackass long enough, he begins to act like one. It seems that Secretary Brown, having been in charge of mental institutions for so long, is becoming somewhat confused.

In this statement, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, Secretary Brown attempts to create, or to further create in Pennsylvania, the impression that the eighteen Democratic Senators are in the Majority in the Senate, and the ninety-eight Democratic House Members are in the Majority in the House. Those of us who, through many years of experience, have learned the practical side of legislative action know that the Majority Party is that which has the greatest number of votes in either branch. It so happens that the Republicans are in control of the House and the Senate, a fact which Secretary Brown either does not know about or is trying to ignore in his statement.

For instance, Mr. President, I would like to read the first three whereas clauses of this resolution:

"Whereas, Secretary of Welfare, William C. Brown, in a news release, paid for out of tax monies, made the following statement—

" 'Unless some drastic action is taken between now and May 31st to provide the necessary funds to properly operate our various institutions, both State-owned and State-aided, it will be necessary to start closing buildings, wards, and cell blocks in order to consolidate our operations and not revert to the days of the shackles and bars in our Mental Hospitals and the rule of the Four Horsemen in our Penitentiaries.' and

"Whereas, the same Secretary Brown had this to say—

" 'If this becomes necessary, the onus will be on the Democrats who have been playing strict party politics in doing and voting as they are told instead of voting according to the dictates of their consciences and the wishes of the people who elected them. So far they have thwarted all revenue producing programs which have been offered.' and

"Whereas the same Secretary Brown has this to say—

" 'The time has come when the people of Pennsylvania should raise their voices in righteous indignation against the Democratic leaders in the Legislature, who are holding the people's elected representatives in both houses in line by fear of political reprisals. Making them vote in a solid bloc as their leaders tell them in order to embarrass the Republican leadership in the Republican's valiant but thus far fruitless efforts to raise the funds necessary to meet the Commonwealth's obligations'."

Now, Mr. President, this resolution was drafted because we believe that something must be done to compel the thinking public to realize that we are the Minority and that there has been only one tax program advanced and, to date, that tax program has not reached the floor, and that there has been no alternative program advanced. The Members of the Senate have had no opportunity whatsoever to vote on any revenue measure.

So, Mr. President, I will continue with the resolution as prepared by the eighteen Democratic Senators.

"Whereas, these statements are so idiotic that the question arises as to the mental balance of the individual responsibile for them, and

"Whereas, the whole trend of the present Session of the Legislature is based upon a vain attempt to find a scapegoat for the inefficiency, lack of leadership and the general low level of political integrity now apparent to all of the people of Pennsylvania, and

"Whereas, some department heads, such as Secretary Brown, who have blindly spent millions of taxpayers dollars without any restrictive investigation of the methods employed by their departments have become and are becoming frantic because a militant minority is demanding economy in government, that they have decided to attempt to place upon the Democratic Minority the onus for the failure of the Republican Majority to meet their obligations to the people of Pennsylvania, and

"Whereas, the entire structure of administrative government is endangered by the wild and insensible lament blazant forth thru the fog horn of irresponsibility by persons of doubtful mental stability, therefore

"Be It Resolved that the Department of Health and the General Assembly name a committee of five competent, qualified, alienists to give a thorough and searching examination of Secretary of Welfare, William C. Brown, to determine whether or not, as an agent of the government, he should be held responsible for the statements so wildly and foolishly made, and

"Be It Further Resolved that a copy of this Resolution be sent to the proper officials in the administration, who have the power and authority, to curtail such irresponsible and idiotic outbursts that serve only to add to the confusion now existent in Harrisburg."

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, in a great many years of experience I have watched many things develop and I, at this time, watch with apprehension the well-planned program designed to have the people of Pennsylvania lay at the door of the Democratic Party the failure, to date, to pass the sales or any other tax program.

Now, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I would like to make an offer to the Republican Senators this afternoon and to the people of Pennsylvania. We have eighteen Democratic Senators. If you will give us eight of your courageous men, we will produce a tax program. I also believe that if you will give seven Republican Members to the ninety-eight Democrats in the House, they will assume the responsibility and give to the people of Pennsylvania the necessary revenues to carry out the needs of this Commonwealth.

Mr. President, I am very much disappointed that any person in political life—and I assume that a man who is the head of a department is in political life—would be so extremely foolish as to attempt to place at the doors of the Democrats the closing of the institutions. To think that he would be so idiotic as to try to create the impression that if we do not vote for some tax bill immediately, without consideration of its effects upon the peoples of this Commonwealth, that the doors will be closed at the hospitals, that the institutions will close.

Mr. President, there is not anything further from the imagination or from the truth than that particular statement of the Secretary of Welfare. We have the right to doubt the mental capabilities of a man who would issue such a statement to the public press, a man who is responsible for the spending of millions of taxpayers' dollars, a man who has within his grasp the welfare of many persons of mental deficiency, of the children in welfare who are in need of the institutions of this great Commonwealth. Yet, they are entrusted to a man of this type, a man of his character, a man who does not realize that above and beyond everything else, even above and beyond political consideration in a political Session of the Legislature, there is some reason to believe that there ought to be some truth told to the public, some truth told to the people of Pennsylvania. He knows that it is not a responsibility of ours, and any onus or blame that might come from the failure to act in time, as he said, in six days, then it cannot possibly be the fault of the Democratic Party.

Mr. President, if it is, however, to be blamed upon us, then give us the necessary weapons with which to work. Give us the eight votes over there, and let us put out a program for the people of Pennsylvania. Give us the seven votes in the House, and let the Democrats be responsible and let them put out a program for the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, if we are going to have Cabinet Officers running over the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in a vain attempt to protect their jobs and to keep themselves in power, then I say to you that we have every right to present to this Senate resolutions that would call upon the Senate to examine the mental processes of individuals of this type.

Mr. President, I can easily understand why Governor Fine is in trouble. I can easily understand why the administration, during this four year term of the Republican Party, has been so haphazard and so inefficient. If this is the type of person, if this is the type of irresponsibility that prevails throughout the administrative departments, then I say to you that the Governor cannot be anywhere except in trouble. He cannot be anything but in trouble. There is not any other way that the man can find a way to give the people of Pennsylvania the kind of government that he promised, and which I believe he is trying to give. How can he? Every time he turns around, some department head makes a statement as foolish as this one. Of all the foolish statements I have heard in twenty years, this is the worst.

Mr. President, let me read you another paragraph. Why, some of you people would not believe that this could happen in our day and age. Let us listen to this one. I think that you ought to hear this one. The situation is almost unbelievable. Here he said, Mr. President, that "The Democratic leaders in the Legislature are holding the people's elected representatives in both houses in line by fear of political reprisals."

Now, Mr. President, there is not a Democratic Senator here who has one political nephew on the payroll anywhere in Pennsylvania. We do not have any jobs in the State; we do not get any contracts; we do not have anything to do with the patronage. How can we, by threat of political reprisals, have the Senators on the other side stay in line or out of line on any tax or other measure in this Commonwealth? How can we go to the Republican Members of the House and say to them, "If you do not vote for the sales tax, we will fire your nephew or your uncle who is on the payroll"? Mr. President, we did not put the uncle on the payroll; we did not put the nephew on the payroll. Political reprisals! Do you agree with me that we ought to get a first-class psychiatrist in here to look over some of these Cabinet positions we have?

Mr. President, let use see what else he has said. This is the one which I think is very good, and I think that most of you will agree with me. "It will be necessary to start closing buildings, wards, and cell blocks"—now we are going to turn all the prisoners loose if the Democrats do not vote for the sales tax—"in order to consolidate our operations"—and that means, of course, that we will close all of the institutions and keep everybody on the payroll, that is consolidation—"and not revert to the days of the shackles and bars in our Mental Hospitals and the rule of the Four Horsemen in our Penitentiaries."

Mr. President, it is almost ridiculous, and I think you all accept it in the vein in which it is given. It is a sign of a breakdown of government when persons who are charged with the responsibility, such as a Cabinet position in any administration, Democratic or Republican, will allow himself to become so confused with the issues before the General Assembly that he deliberately and without a basis of foundation or fact will try to confuse the people of Pennsylvania.

Now, Mr. President, the reason we are serious about this is this. Certain individuals, who are bound to the Republican administration for certain favors have sent notices out to the school teachers of Pennsylvania and have tried to impress, and in many instances have impressed, the school teachers of Pennsylvania by saying to them that the responsibility for the school teachers' salary increases lies in the lap of the Democratic Party.

Mr. President, we have been accustomed over the years to being blamed for many of our faults and to having our virtues misrepresented, but I think the time has come when the school teachers of Pennsylvania should stop listening to false leadership and to go into the records of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. In the past twenty years, not one Democratic Member has ever voted against a piece of legislation beneficial to the educational system of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. At no time have we ever failed, when necessity existed, to provide sufficient funds for the Commonwealth to operate its departments.

On top of that, Mr. President, we find that we have other persons; for instance, those who are interested in third class city governments. The leaders of that particular lobby group have notified the third class cities in the Commonwealth that the Democratic Minority is responsible for the stalemate in Harrisburg. How, by any stretch of the imagination, can any of you accuse us, with one-third of the votes in this Senate, how can you accuse us of stopping or stalemating this Session of the Legislature?

Mr. President, when these individuals, who, as I have said, are just wings of the Republican plane, are out giving to Pennsylvania this false impression, we object strenuously to any person who is in authority in Pennsylvania jumping on the same band wagon. We do not accept the responsibility for the mess in which we find ourselves. However, we will accept the responsibility to the people of Pnnsylvania to help solve the mess in which we find ourselves. In order to do so, admit that you have failed in your efforts and turn over to us the responsibility of government, which I assure you we will assume.

SENATE RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE DEPARTMENT OF WELFARE

Messrs. DENT, BANE, BARR, CAMIEL, DiSILVESTRO, HALUSKA, HOLLAND, LANE, LEADER, McCREESH, McGINNIS, McMENAMIN, RUTH, SILVERT, STIEFEL, TOOLE, WEINER, and YOSKO offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 12, 1953.

Whereas, Secretary of Welfare, William C. Brown, in a news release, paid for out of tax monies, made the following statement:

"Unless some drastic action is taken between now and May 31st to provide the necessary funds to properly operate our various institutions, both State-owned and State-aided, it will be necessary to start closing buildings, wards, and cell blocks in order to consolidate our operations and not revert to the days of the shackles and bars in our Mental Hospitals and the rule of the Four Horsemen in our Penitentiaries." and

Whereas, the same Secretary Brown had this to say:

"If this becomes necessary, the onus will be on the Democrats who have been playing strict party politics in doing and voting as they are told instead of voting according to the dictates of their consciences and the wishes of the people who elected them. So far they have thwarted all revnue producing programs which have been offered," and

Whereas, the same Secretary Brown has this to say:

"The time has come when the people of Pennsylvania should raise their voices in righteous indignation against the Democratic leaders in the Legislature, who are holding the people's elected representatives in both houses in line by fear of political reprisals. Making them vote in a solid bloc as their leaders tell them in order to embarrass the Republican leadership in the Republican's valiant but thus far fruitless efforts to raise the funds necessary to meet the Commonwealth's obligations." and

Whereas, these statements are so idiotic that the question arises as to the mental balance of the individual responsible for them, and

Whereas, the whole trend of the present Session of the Legislature is based upon a vain attempt to find a scapegoat for the inefficiency, lack of leadership and the general low level of political integrity now apparent to all of the people of Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, the entire structure of administrative government is endangered by the wild and insensible lament blazant forth thru the fog horn of irresponsibility by persons of doubtful mental stability, therefore

Be It Resolved that the Department of Health and the General Assembly name a committee of five competent, qualified, alienists to give a thorough and searching examination of Secretary of Welfare, William C. Brown, to determine whether or not, as an agent of the government, he should be held responsible for the statements so wildly and foolishly made, and

Be It Further Resolved that a copy of this Resolution be sent to the proper officials in the administration, who have the power and authority, to curtail such irresponsible and idiotic outbursts that serve only to add to the confusion now existent in Harrisburg.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, first I would like to object to the immediate consideration of this resolution and ask that it be referred to the proper committee because, perhaps, it might be amended to include the Democrats, as well as the Secretary of Welfare, and such others that the committee might decide would need some psychiatric attention.

Now, Mr. President, I think Senator Dent has in some way or another gotten a new trick. Instead of making speeches under the heading of "Petitions and Remonstrances," he has acquired this trick of putting it under "Resolutions," and he puts a resolution out here and then makes a speech. Of course, I did not want to rise to a point of order, because I want to be as liberal as possible with the Senator and with all the Members. However, it is certainly a new trick with which we will have to contend.

Mr. President, Secretary Brown, of course, is alarmed that the current biennium is about to end, the last day of this month, and he needs some funds to operate his department. The fact of the matter is that through the various technicalities and objections that have been made to a certain deficiency bill, we have now made it impossible for the Secretary to pay his employees for the past month, and we are now doing everything possible to put a bill through which will allow him to pay these employees who have had to go down to a local bank and borrow the money on which to live, pending the time we could get this bill through so that they might obtain their salaries and their wages.

Mr. President, I do not think Secretary Brown was correct in accusing the Senate leadership of stalling, because in the Senate they do represent—that is the Senate Minority, the Democrats—a real true minority. I feel that if any tax program comes over from the House, that we on the Majority side will be able to put it through and take whatever credit there is in connection with the passage of such a program, and whatever onus there is in connection with such a program.

Mr. President, it has always been true in the history of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that the Majority Party has the obligation to pass tax programs. That has been true ever since I have been a Member of this Legislature. Each Session we always receive these speeches on the part of the Minority that if they were in the Majority, they would have a different program.

Mr. President, I remember back about 1947, when we put the pop tax on. At that time, Senator Dent came in with a whole laboratory of equipment. Our Senate Chamber looked a little bit—

Mr. LANE. Mr. President—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. For what purpose does the gentleman wish to be recognized?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, will state his point of order.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I say that under Rule No. 39, the Majority Leader is out of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, read the rule to which he is referring, please?

Mr. LANE. Rule 39, "The following resolutions after they have been read, shall be referred to an appropriate committee, without debate (unless by unanimous consent the Senate shall otherwise direct)."

Mr. President, the gentlman is not in order at this time by making a speech, and I object.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I concur with that and that is the reason that I stated, when I first started to speak, that I was liberal with Senator Dent. He was also out of order. I did not object then, but if there is an objection made I will go along with the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane, and say that I was out of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being objection to the immediate consideration of the resolution, it is referrd to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I will withdraw my objection, providing the Majority Floor Leader does not go back into the Session of 1947.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. May the Chair suggest that the suggestion, under the rule, if it is going to be limited, that the rules and regulations be written out as to what the limitation is so the Chair will know how to rule in the future.

The gentleman is objecting under Rule No. 39, and the objection has been agreed to by the Majority Leader and sustained by the Chair.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the Majority Leader be given unanimous consent to go back as far as he wants to, because the further back he goes, the more he will find out they are wrong.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There is nothing before the Senate at this point. We were under the heading of "Original Resolutions." The resolution presented by the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, has already been referred to the Committee on Rules where it can be debated to its heart's content.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I went to the trouble of calling up the Department of Welfare and inquiring from them just why the appropriations which were to extend over twenty-four months were used up on March 31.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman yield for just a minute? We are under the heading of "Original Resolutions." Is the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland, presenting a resolution?

Mr. HOLLAND. I am, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I received one of the most startling answers that I have ever received from any department head in my twenty years in Harrisburg. I asked Mr. Irvin, "Why do you not have enough money to carry you through your budget period?" Here is his answer:

"The amount of money that was appropriated by the General Assembly was not enough to do the work as planned by Mr. Brown." I want Senator Chapman to listen to this. "This matter was taken up by the Budget Controller and the Governor's Office and the heads of the Appropriation Committee, and we were assured that there would be an additional appropriation added before the adjournment of the 1951 Session.

"On receipt of this promise, the Secretary of Welfare hired more employees, most of them as field workers to investigate and inspect welfare agencies and old peoples' homes throughout the Commonwealth."

Mr. President, I have never known by what authority the budget controllers, or the Governor's Office, or the heads of the appropriation committees, could assure any department head to go ahead and spend, knowing that their appropriation would not last for the budget period.

Mr. President, I am of the opinion that this is a case for the Attorney General to prosecute, as it is a deliberate act of misfeasance in office. I charge Mr. Brown of deliberately spending, with the knowledge that his Department could not operate for the last two months of the biennium due to his willful spending of money that he did not have. Is Mr. Brown so ignorant of laws of the Commonwealth that he takes in his own hands, without any regard of any intent of the General Assembly, to deliberately cause a deficiency in his Department and now place the blame, not having ample money to pay his own employees, on the members of the General Assembly, and, above all, to place this onus on the members of the Minority Party?

Mr. President, does Mr. Brown admit that the Republican Party is so full of factionalism and cheap politics that they cannot function as a Majority Party? Are the Grundys and the Duffs and the Fines so busy sinking daggers in each others' backs that they cannot stop to think or plan for the good of the people of Pennsylvania? Will Mr. Brown name the revenue raisers that the Democrats have refused to vote for?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. For what purpose does the Majority Leader wish to be recognized?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, that resolution is the oddest one that I have ever heard since I have been in the Legislature. I wonder if the Senator from Allegheny, Senator Holland, might submit that resolution to the Chair for a side bar conference, in order that the Chair and we may decide whether or not it is an original resolution under the present Order of Business.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President this is a statement as to why the resolution must be presented. The resolution is coming next.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Would the gentleman mind repeating that, please? The Chair recalls asking the gentleman if he was about to present a resolution.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I am about to present a resolution, just as soon as I finish my statement.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Does the Chair understand that this is a short preamble to the resolution?

Mr. HOLLAND. Absolutely, Mr. President.

Yes, Mr. President, we are against the sales tax, and if Mr. Brown had any sympathies for the poor people that he is now crying about, he would be against it, too. A sales tax is aimed against the large families in Pennsylvania. It is not a 2% or a 1% tax. In the district which I represent, there are many families with seven children. A sales tax of 2%, which would soon be, would mean that for every purchase that is made of clothing for these children, these families will pay 2% more than they pay today, with the inevitable result that this family of seven would be required to pay a tax six times greater than the single or unmarried individual, a complete contradiction of the ordinarily accepted understanding of taxation based on ability to pay.

Mr. President, what does Mr. Brown, of the Union League of Philadelphia, know or care about the working people of Pennsylvania? I am sure that in all his discussions with his fellow members of the Philadelphia Union League, underprivileged and the low-income groups do not come in for much discussion.

Mr. President, I could go on indefinitely attacking the statement of one who tries to cover up his own deficiency in honesty and business ability and running his Department in a slipshod manner, but I think I can sum it up as any American would sum it up: "Mr. Brown, you are a deliberate liar."

Since the Majority Party of the Senate feels Mr. Brown is of sane mind, Mr. President, I rise in place and present to the Chair the following resolution, on behalf of the eighteen Members of the Democratic Minority, and ask for its immediate consideration.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

DIRECTING ATTORNEY GENERAL TO INSTIGATE CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS AGAINST WILLIAM C. BROWN, SECRETARY OF WELFARE

Messrs. HOLLAND, DENT, BANE, BARR, CAMIEL, DiSILVESTRO, HALUSKA, LANE, LEADER, McCREESH, McGINNIS, McMENAMIN, RUTH, SILVERT, STIEFEL, TOOLE, WEINER and YOSKO offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 12, 1953.

Whereas, The Secretary of the Welfare Department, William C. Brown, has admitted in a statement to the press, and in public speeches, that he has knowingly and deliberately spent, and contracted to spend, monies not appropriated by the General Assembly, and

Whereas, By his action he has caused the employes of the Welfare Department to go unpaid for services rendered, and

Whereas, Such conduct on the part of the Secretary of Welfare constitutes misfeasance in office.

Therefore Be It Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Attorney General of Pennsylvania is hereby directed to instigate criminal proceedings against William C. Brown, Secretary of Welfare, for misfeasance in office, and be it further Resolved, That the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania immediately dismiss the said William C. Brown for incompetence, dereliction of duty, and negligence in the administration of the Department of Welfare.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I object to the immediate consideration of this resolution.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE 39

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I move to suspend the rule, and have it adopted immediately.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman advise the Chair as to what rule he is suspending, so that the Chair will be in a position to rule?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, Rule 39.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman read the rule for the information of the Chair?

Mr. HOLLAND. "The following resolutions after they have been read, shall be referred to an appropriate committee, without debate (unless by unanimous consent the Senate shall otherwise direct)."

Mr. DENT. I second the motion, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. It has been moved by the gentleman from Allegheny, and seconded by the gentleman from Westmoreland, that Rule 39 be suspended.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.)

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The motion is lost, and the resolution is still referred to the Senate Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I cannot stand idly by and have all these statements made and then have no opportunity to answer them.

Mr. President, I think the main thing that Senator Dent was talking about was the fact that there was a charge made that there would be some political reprisals if any of the Democrats voted for this tax measure.

Mr. President, the political reprisals include more than just jobs. I do not know how many jobs are under the control of the Democrats. I understand that there are some over here who are related to some of the Democratic colleagues. I do not know how many there are, and I am not going to go into that.

Mr. President, that is not what is meant, I think, by Mr. Brown's statement that there were some political reprisals that were challenged by the Democratic leadership over there. The statement that was made, I think to which Mr. Brown referred, was the fact that if any Democrat on the floor of the House would vote for a sales tax, then, as far as the Minority Leader, Mr. Andrews, was concerned, that Democrat would no longer be welcomed to the Democratic Caucus of the House of Representatives.

Mr. President, as long as I have been a Member of this Legislature, the Republican Party has never yet issued such a challenge to any one of the Republicans. In other words, since I have been here I have been allowed to vote on each and every bill according to my convictions. At no time was there any challenge made to me, or any threat, that if I voted contrary to those convictions I would not be welcomed to the Republican Caucus.

When anyone is threatened, Mr. President, any Member of this Legislature is threatened with such a reprisal as that, I think that is definitely a political reprisal and that is the thing to which I think Secretary Brown was objecting.

If I had it within my power, Mr. President, I would like to object to it, too, because I think if the Democrats in the House of Representatives were allowed to vote according to their convictions, I believe that there would be enough Democrats over there to vote for a sales tax and there would be no question but what a sales tax would pass the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not think the gentleman has too much ground upon which to trod, so he has to be covering more than he can really walk over unless he has seven league boots.

Mr. President, the statement which the Secretary made was one in which he said, to embarrass the Republican leadership we are holding the people's elected representatives in both Houses of both parties in line by fear of political reprisals. I am sure that the Democratic leaders did not go into the Republican Caucus and threaten them. I am sure that you know and I know that if you can keep your Republican Party in line, you have sufficient votes without any help of the Democrats.

I can, however, assure you, Mr. President, that if, for any reason, some of your Republican Members of the House and Senate decide to leave the Republican Party and come over with the Democrats and give us sufficient votes, that we will not be afraid of political reprisals. We will not be afraid of anything, and we will try to give the people a very fine administration.

DEROGATORY REMARKS EXPUNGED FROM RECORD

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would like to call the attention of the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, to a statement in the short preamble to the resolution which he inroduced, in which a direct reference to the veracity of a Member of this Senate was called. This is in violation of the Rules of the Senate, and the Chair will entertain a motion to expunge the reference to a Member of this Senate from the record.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that this reference to a Member of the Senate, with regard to his veracity be expunged from the record.

Mr. HARE. I second the motion, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. It has been moved by Senator Mahany, and seconded by Senator Hare, that the reference of the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, to a Member of this Senate with regard to his veracity be expunged from the record.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I will accept that as coming from the man speaking as the head of the Republican Party, and not as a Senator.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair wishes to call to the attention of the gentleman from Allegheny that any statement which was made by the head of the Republican Party was made off the floor of the Senate and not on the floor of the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not think that we ought to put any Member of the Senate in any light other than that in which he places himself.

Senator Holland explained to me, Mr. President, that he did not attack any Member of this Senate by name; he did not state that any Member of the Senate was part of the "great lie." All he said was, "the leader of the Republican Party." If, by inference, it is the opinion of the Chair that this is a direct attack upon the veracity of any Member of the Senate, then on behalf of the Minority I move that it be stricken from the record.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. May the Chair suggest to the gentleman from Westmoreland, with regard to the reference to the State Chairman of the Republican Party, nobody within the four walls of this Chamber has to look in the newspaper files to figure out who it is. That is why the Chair says it is a direct attack on the veracity of a Member of the Senate.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.)

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The motion is carried, and the matter is expunged from the record.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, striking it from the record does not in any way alter the fact that when he said the Democrats are responsible for the lack of passing the tax program, it was not the whole truth.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair wishes to advise the gentleman that the statement was made off the floor of the Senate. All the Chair is trying to do is preserve the rules which all eighteen Members of the Minority Party, as well as the thirty-two members of the Majority Party approved when this Session started.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I just want to draw the attention of the Senate to the fact that what I say, I say to the Senate. I do not wait until the Senate goes home to say it.

REQUEST TO INTERROGATE

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman yield until we have completed "Original Resolutions?"

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I have a resolution, but I want to ask a question before I present it.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I was going to suggest that we adhere in the future to the regular procedure of sending the resolution to the desk, having it read by the Clerk and sending a copy to me so that I can keep track of it. This is the oddest way of presenting resolutions that I have ever heard of. It does not adhere to our regular procedure, as the Senators know.

Mr. President, I wish that we might do it in that manner, if you do not mind. In the meantme, if you want to ask me some questions I will be very glad to cooperate with you.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman yield just a moment?

Mr. YOSKO. I will, Mr. President.

STUDENTS FROM GREEN HILL HIGH SCHOOL PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair at this time would like to present to the Members of the Senate a group of students from the Green Hill High School, of McConnellsburg, in Fulton County. They are the guests of Senator Hare.

Will Senator Hare's guests please rise in place and take a bow?

INTERROGATION

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the Majority Floor Leader, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Mahany included in my request of last Wednesday, I had asked for a statement of the names and addresses of the accounts written off at the ten medical-surgical hospitals, accounts written off by the Department of Revenue, to determine which of them had the ability to pay. Do you have such statements available?

Mr. MAHANY. I do not, Mr. President, because after that interrogation, Senator Wade explained to the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Yosko, that he could obtain those statements himself if he requested them from the Department of Revenue. I have had considerable work to do for the past week, and I have not had an opportunity to obtain those names.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I will debate the issue a little bit later.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

DIRECTING STATE POLICE TO INVESTIGATE FINANCIAL SITUATION OF EVERY PERSON OWING A DEBT TO A STATE HOSPITAL

Mr. YOSKO offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 12, 1953.

The medical and surgical services available at State hospitals are intended to be given without charge only to the very needy, to those unable to pay for the medical care they must have.

It has become the practice at State Hospitals to abandon the hospital's claim whenever any patient fails to pay for the services received, with no investigation of the patient's financial situation, and without first referring the case to the Department of Justice.

During the fiscal year June 1, 1951 to June 1, 1952, the sum of one and one-half million dollars was thus written off the books of the various hospitals, as uncollectible, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That the State Police are herby directed to investigate the financial situation and ability to pay, of every person owing a debt to a State hospital for medical services, which were written off as uncollectible during the fiscal year June 1, 1951 to June 1, 1952, and be it further

Resolved, That the Commissioner of the State Police make a report of the investigation to the Department of Justice.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to any appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

A Supplement to the act approved the twenty-first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two (Appropriation Acts page 87) entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-one" providing for deficiencies in appropriations made to the Department of Welfare by the act for the fiscal biennium ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, it was my intention to submit amendments to this bill today. However, unfortunately, the statement which was prepared by the Department of Welfare was not in such form that it would permit the Legislative Reference Bureau to draft the amendments. I do not know whether they have the up-to-date information on it by this time or not. If they have, I am assuming that the amendment is being prepared.

Mr. President, I want it understood that I am not opposed to paying back salaries to innocent State employees. However, I am opposed to waste and extravagance and the loose spending of the taxpayers' funds.

I went into the management of these ten medical-surgical hospitals at some length. Mr. President. I have compiled statistics which I will present probably tomorrow or next week. Frankly, I am not a bit surprised that there is a deficiency appropriation necessary at these hospitals. I was going to amend, or attempt to amend, this bill because it is very loosely drawn.

For instance, Mr. President, on page 2, it states, "For the payment of the deficiency in the appropriation for the payment of the salary of the Secretary of Welfare and for the payment of salaries wages or other compensation of deputy secretaries and other employes for the payment of general expenses supplies printing and equipment necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the department including the cost of a central accounting system for State-owned institutions subject to the supervision of the department the sum of one hundred twenty thousand dollars ($120,000)."

Mr. President, I went over to the Department of Welfare this morning and I talked with Mr. Ervin. I tried to get from him a breakdown of the amounts which would be needed for each of the categories named in the bill. Of course, he said that the money was not needed for some of these categories, including the central accounting system. If that is true, why include it in the bill? It seems to me that the way this bill is drafted, if you give them $120,000 for the purposes indicated here, they could spend that $120,000 for any one of the categories which are named here.

Mr. President, it is about time we started to spell out in all appropriation bills, including deficiency appropriation bills, exactly what the money is for and how it is going to be spent, so that it could not be spent for other purposes. It is because the money we did allocate, over $10,000,000 to these ten State-owned medical-surgical hospitals, that they are now asking for a deficiency appropriation totaling $400,000.

Mr. President, if you turn to page 3, where they are requesting $400,000, there you will find the whole series of categories for which this money is to be spent. Yet, when I asked the Majority Leader to get me a statement of how the money was to be spent, it was confined to salaries, food and supplies, and for no other reason. Yet, you have a whole series of categories here for which the money can be spent. When I asked Mr. Ervin for a breakdown of them, he said that it is not going to be used for that purpose. It it is not going to be used for that purpose, why put it in the bill? I would like to get from him an up-to-date statement of the exact amount of money he needed, and the purposes for which he needed it, so that we could incorporate it right in this bill as he gives it to us, in order that the money could not be used for any other purpose than the Department of Welfare says it is going to be used for.

Unfortunately, Mr. President, as I said before, the Legislative Reference Bureau does not have the data and could not prepare the amendment.

Mr. President, I do not want to call your attention to the loose way in which the hospitals are operated. It is that to which I object and not so much the payment of salaries to those who earn them. You take the Nanticoke State Hospital. The free service written off amounts to $126,000. It amounts to, pardon me, $144,000. The accounts receivable, as of May 31, 1952, were $40,000. Take the Hazleton State Hospital. Free service written off is $276,000, and the accounts receivable amount to $78,000. I am giving you round figures, although I have it here in dollars and cents.

Take the Coaldale State Hospital. The free service written off is $118,000, and the accounts receivable $22,000. The Philipsburg State Hospital, the accounts written off is $81,000 and the accounts receivable is $77,000. The Shamokin State Hospital, free service written off was $154,000 and the accounts receivable $97,000. The Locust Mountain State Hospital, free service written off is $113,000, accounts receivable $9,000. The Connellsville State Hospital, free service written off is $25,000 and the accounts receivable, $60,000. Blossburg State Hospital, free service written off, $108,000, and accounts receivable, $40,000. In other words, I have the total sum here of accounts receivable as of May 31, 1952, and they total $545,135.01 and the amount written off as of May 31, 1952 is $1,477,908.69. It was for this reason that I introduced that resolution today.

Mr. President, there is one thing that we have got to do. We must break up this racket that is now in the course of being permitted at these medical-surgical hospitals. As I said to Senator Wagner a short time ago, on this question of whether the hospitals should be returned to the local muncipality, I said to him then that the manner in which these hospitals are being operated is their worst enemy. If they were being operated efficiently and according to Hoyle, the sentiment would not be for disposing of them. Senator Wagner frankly agreed with me.

Mr. President, you take, for instance, the salaries that are being paid to some of the doctors at these hospitals. For Instance, take the Ashland Hospital. It is a 193-bed hospital. They have two doctors there, and they pay one of them $10,230 a year. I do not know who the doctor is, and I do not know how good he is. Take the Blossburg State Hospital. There are three doctors there. It is a 99-bed hospital. They pay one doctor there $12,558 a year, another doctor they pay $7,464 a year and the third doctor, $3,528 a year. Take the Coaldale State Hospital, where the bed capacity is 138—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I wish to be as liberal as possible, but I do not believe that the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Yosko, is talking on this bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Yosko, please confine his remarks to the bill which is before the Senate?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I can only say this, that if the Members of this Senate, who are supposed to be interested in economy and efficiency in government, are not interested in listening to the facts, which is a part of the hodgepodge and mess in the State government, I will close now and take it up tomorrow when we are under "Petitions and Remonstrances" or on "Personal Privilege."

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, just to ease the minds of those who have to vote on this measure, I think it should be stated that the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Yosko, was talking about collections which are entirely in the hands, as I understand; of the Department of Revenue.

The Department of Welfare pays the salaries and makes these appropriations, Mr. President. Whether the collections were fifty per cent of outstanding accounts, or eighty or one hundred, that would not have any effect upon this deficiency we are voting on this afternoon. So, Senator Yosko, I think it is irrelevant. I think that this issue may be debated, and discussed and investigated at some more appropriate time in the season, at which time I would be glad to participate.

Mr. President, the only thing we have today is that the Welfare Department is obligated to pay these salaries to these people, and they do not have enough money to do it. The collections from the patients are made by the Department of Revenue, and do not come back to the Department of Welfare and are not available for this particular thing.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I opened my remarks by stating that I was not opposed to the payment of salaries to these people, provided the hospitals were operated in an efficient manner. I attempted to disclose to the Members of the Senate just how the hospitals are being operated and I was going to go into the amount that is expended in each one of them, as well as the amounts that are written off. However, if you want to object to such discussion at the present time, as I said before, I will yield and go into it at another time.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Warren, Senator Chapman.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Chapman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHAPMAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Senator Chapman, did the Secretary of the Welfare Department, the budget controller or the Governor's Office get a promise from you in the last Session that you were going to make an additional appropriation to their department?

Mr. CHAPMAN. No, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I hope everybody heard what he said. The answer was "no."

Therefore, Mr. President, I think that you, as Chairman of the Judiciary General Committee, should bring out that resolution immediately to try Mr. Brown for misfeasance in office.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is the gentleman referring to his switch blade knife bill which is in my committee?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I am afraid you had better put the bill out and pass it, because we are going to use some switch blades before this Session is over.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Well, the gentleman would know more about them than I do.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Section 74 Merger of Subsequent Amendments Whenever a law has been more than once amended the latest amendment shall be read into the original law as previously amended and not into such law as originally enacted This rule applies whether or not the previous amendment is referred to and whether or not its language is incorporated in the latest amendment If the insertions in and the deletions from the law made by the previous amendment are not incorporated in the later they shall nevertheless be read into the later amendment as though they had in fact been incorporated therein

Section 75 Two or More Amendments to Same Provision One Overlooking the Other Whenever two or more amendments to the same provision of a law are enacted at the same or different sessions one amendment overlooking and making no reference to the other or others [the amendments shall be construed together if possible and effect be given to each If the amendments be irreconcilable] the changes in the law made by each shall be given effect and all the amendments shall be read into each other If the changes made in the law are to any extent in direct conflict with each other the latest in date of final enactment shall prevail to the extent of the direct conflict from the time it becomes effective The fact that a later amendment (i) restates language of the original act which was deleted by an earlier amendment or (ii) fails to restate language inserted by an earlier amendment does not of itself create a conflict between the two amendments Amendments are in conflict with each other only if the changes in the law made by each without considering the inserts and strike-outs of the other cannot be put into operation simultaneously

Section 77 Ineffective Provisions Not Revived by Re-enactment in Amendatory Laws Exception Provisions of a law no longer effective beause of having been deleted by an earlier amendment or otherwise shall not be construed as being revived by re-enactment in an amendatory law unless it shall clearly appear by notice thereof in the title of the amendatory law that the Legislature intended to revive such provisions

Section 2 The provisions of the foregoing amendments being intended as a clarification of existing law shall apply to all acts of assembly heretofore enacted as well as to those hereafter enacted The provisions of this section shall not affect any matter heretofore finally adjudicated by any court of this Commonwealth

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, I find it necessary to express opposition to the passage of this bill.

This bill, for the information of the Members of the House, provides that where one is charged with the crime of involuntary manslaughter which has arisen out of the negligent operation of an automobile—that is what it actually means—that this type of an involuntary manslaughter case may be tried in the Court of Quarter Sessions rather than in the court of Oyer and Terminer.

For those Members of the House who are not members of the legal profession and not familiar with those two terms, I might say to you that the Court of Oyer and Terminer is a court in which felonies and serious crimes are tried and in which, under the rules of the court, additional rights in the choice of the members of the jury are extended to the defendant. In other words great precaution is taken that in the trial of a case involving a homicide, involuntary manslaughter; every safeguard is given the defendant in his trial.

In the Court of Quarter Sessions, which deals with minor crimes such as assault and battery and misdemeanors of that nature, these same precautions are not taken.

Having tried cases of involuntary manslaughter, particularly arising out of the operation of motor vehicles, I feel this type of crime is of such a serious nature that rather than remove the safeguards we now have, insofar as choice of jurors is concerned, we should consider the serious nature of the crime and maintain the same protection we now maintain in the trial of manslaughter cases.

You and I know that people of good social standing, people who are law-abiding citizens sometimes become involved in automobile accidents that may result in death to someone, and they are therefore susceptible to trial of an involuntary manslaughter nature.

I say to you that is of such magnitude and such importance to persons charged with that crime that you should not remove any of the protections that are now given to them in the selection of jurors. I ask you to consider the serious nature of this crime.

From the time of this Commonwealth up to the present time, we felt the importance of this crime and the seriousness of it, and let us not remove those restrictions.

I ask you in all fairness to anyone who may be charged with such a crime that he be given the same safeguards, whether the crime of involuntary manslaughter arise out of the perpetration of a murder or in the operation of a motor vehicle.

The number of the bill, for those who may not be acquainted with it, is Senate Bill 16, Printer's No. 164, and I ask you to vote "No" on this bill.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, in connection with this bill, about the only thing I can say on it is the information which came to my hands from the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee and one of the sponsors of the bill.

It amounts, to this, that instead of getting twenty preemptory challenges, as we call them in the trial of a case on a voluntary or involuntary manslaughter charge, you would only be allowed four preemptory challenges. In other words what Mr. Schmit is trying to say is that there are a great deal more challenges that you are allowed without cause on the trial of such a case.

But the number of cases arising from automobile accidents is such—and we amended the bill to rule out that the man cannot be brought back where he has been previously charged with a higher degree of homicide than under this bill. There was considerable concern about that, that a man might be tried for murder and brought back on an involuntary manslaughter charge and he would lose those rights. We ruled that out and made it entirely an involuntary manslaughter situation, which reduces the number of challenges from twenty to four, and it expedites the business of the court.

There is no indication of any kind that anybody is going to be subject to any particular harm. They will still get their trial by jury. They will still be tried in the county in which the offense took place. It is merely a question of trying to speed the work of the courts in cases of this nature.

It is a good bill, and I will ask the Members to vote for it.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, I too am interested in expediting the work of the courts. I know that our courts are jammed up with work ,but an involuntary manslaughter case, a case in which the defendant is charged with the unwarranted death of a person who has been killed by an automobile, is of such a serious nature that it should not be tried with speed, and take away from the man the protection he now has under the law insofar as jury challenges are concerned.

I had occasion just a year ago to defend a gentleman who was charged with the crime of involuntary manslaughter arising out of the operation of his automobile. The case took three days to try, and after the case was tried for three days, the jury was out for a day and could not arrive at a verdict, so we must retry that case.

That case was of such importance to the defendant that if he were found guilty, not only would it subject him to the penalties prescribed for involuntary manslaughter, but he would also lose the right to operate his automobile for a year. It so happened that his livelihood depended upon the operation of that automobile. It also would have meant that in the community in which he resided he would have been stigmatized with having been one who committed an unlawful homicide upon a fellow citizen.

I say to you it is of great importance to a defendant. It may happen to your boy or to my boy in the operation of an automobile. It may happen to your wife or my wife. It may happen to you or to me. If we are charged with the crime of involuntary manslaughter I feel that is of such a serious nature that we should not treat it in the same light as we treat assault and battery or some other minor misdemeanor.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I am going to vote for this bill because I am not so sure that it is an advantage to have this type of case tried in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery where murder cases are tried and where the jurors who usually are called on the largest panel that you can get in a murder case, who hear severe and important murder cases from day to day for possibly a period of three weeks. I am not so sure that it is not an advantage for a man who has had an accident and killed somebody accidentally to have his case tried in a court where they try assault and battery cases and minor crimes. It would seem to me that might be to the benefit of the defendant and the jury would not treat it as seriously as they would a case which was called in the same court as they call the more serious crimes.

Under the conditions I think that it is possibly an advantage to have a smaller number of jurors and for the case to be tried in a court where cases are considered not so serious.

For that reason I am going to vote for it.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, in order to eliminate any confusion that might exist in the minds of the Members regarding speediness of the trial, this bill will not speed up the trial itself. The trial will take just as many days as the testimony of the case involves. All this does is speed up the selection of the jury for that trial. It has nothing to do with the speeding up of the trial whatsoever. He is still tried by a jury of twelve men, and they have to bring in the same kind of verdict. I want to make that distinction. It has nothing to do with the speed-up of the trial at all, it only speeds up the selection of the jury.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Kline, Watkins,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 294, entitled:

An Act to further amend subsections (b), (c) and (e) of section 4 of the act, approved the twenty-fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1050), entitled "An act relating to the collection of taxes levied by counties, county institution districts, cities of the third class, boroughs, owns, townships, certain school districts and vocational school districts; conferring powers and imposing duties on tax collectors, courts, and various officers of said political subdivisions; and prescribing penalties," by clarifying the identity of certain taxing districts.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MORAN. I would ask that somebody explain just what this bill does.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the explanation to me of the bill was that it merely is a corrective measure concerning the word "district" which had previously been omitted. That is my explanation of it. It is a very simple bill, and to be frank we have not made too much of a study of it, but that is the way it was explained to us.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to request that this bill be passed over for the time being.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 294, Printer's No. 69 was passed over at the request of Mr. MORAN.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. GUTHRIE.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 626, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1005) entitled as amended "An act relating to and regulating tractors and their operation; providing for their registration by the Department of Revenue upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of tractors; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, and townsships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of tractors; imposing penalties imposing certain costs on counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation; and providing for refunds," by further regulating the length of tractors and combinations of vehicles; further limiting where informations charging violations of summary provisions of said act may be brought.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER (Charles C. Smith) IN THE CHAIR.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Chester for being a very excellent Speaker pro tempore today. He worked very hard on the calendar.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WATERHOUSE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the purpose of my statement is to inform any of those attending the fish fry this evening, if they are not familiar with just where the Blue Mountain Hotel is located I would like to make it clear that is is about six or seven miles out Front Street, in other words, Route 322 going toward Dauphin. About one block beyond Fort Hunter, turn right, and it is up that road about four miles. They cannot miss it if they go under the Rockview Bridge, past Fort Hunter, turn to the right, and if they do not watch closely they will miss the turn, but once they have made that turn, they are all set.

Of course, as you know, this dinner is sponsored by the Republican Members from Erie County, and the invitation is extended to all the Republican Members and employes of the House. We would have liked to invite all the minority, but the facilities are not such that we could feed them. So, we were only able to invite a few, and I hope that the ones who were not invited will realize that the only reason they are not invited is because we do not have the facilities for feeding.

We would certainly like to have them eat some of the finest fish in the world and get a chance to hob nob with their colleagues. I hope that you will all be there, and will try to see that you have plenty of fish.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is very happy that it is the facilities that are lacking and not the fish.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, they are going to start eating at 7:30, so if as many as possible will be there by that tim,e, it will be appreciated, but if some are a little late we will still have fish.

I would like to make an amendment to my statement. If those who do not have transportation will be on the plaza in front of the main entrance, there will be cars available and any who are driving out and do not have a car full will they please swing by there and pick up anyone anytime from say 6:30 on.

SENATE MESSAGE

NOT VOTING—2

Kline, Watkins,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

SENATE MESSAGE

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 11, 1953.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Wednesday, May 20, 1953 at three o'clock p. m., E. S. T., and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Wednesday, May 20, 1953 at three-thirty o'clock p. m., E. S. T.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, do I understand if the resolution is agreed to we will reassemble next week on Wednesday?

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands that is correct.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, I at this time rise in opposition to the resolution. It was my understanding, and I think the understanding of quite a number of the Members of the House, that a complete week would lapse next week, and that we would return the following week. Now, as I understand, we are going to come back here Wednesday. How long do you intend to stay in session next week?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, if we would count the days wasted they would total more than the days worked.

My personal position is this: if the majority can turn up on next Wednesday with 105 Members in the House subject to the will of the Majority Leader, it can do business and do business just as well as though we had 98 Members here in the House. If you do not have 105 Members next Wednesday and you propose legislation contrary to the views of the minority, it will not pass. So I would say to my colleagues on this side that if it is impossible for them to be here on Wednesday, that they pursue their ordinary pursuits and if the diligent Republicans show up 105—better make it 107 to be sure—show up with 105 or 107, that you go ahead just as fast as you can go. Trot out your stuff, if you have any. Perhaps after tomorrow you will be so exhausted that even though you pass this resolution to return here Wednesday, you will not be able to do it. If you do not pass it, you may have no plans for Wednesday.

So I say, let us adojurn until Wednesday and maybe by that time your minds will be clarified and by the following Monday the Democrats who are going to have such a strenuous time on Tuesday will have been rested and we will come here in all good fellowship to pull you out of whatever hole you happen to be into at that particular time.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, everybody knows that the adjournment drive is on. We would like to be able to close up the business of this General Assembly at an early date.

As you have all read in the newspapers, the hotel situation will be very bad during the month of June and the first several weeks in July. We have every intention of trying to work through Friday of this week to move as many bills as possible. We want to come back here the following week after the Primaries and work. We cannot afford, if we are going to have an early adjournment of this House, to lose all of next week.

Therefore, it is our decision to come back next week, to work as hard as we can this week and try to bring about as early a termination of this session as possible. If we lose, shall I say, all of next week it will mean a week wasted and it will mean for sure that we will be here during the hot days of July and August, which is something none of us want to do. So, therefore, I ask the Members to support the resolution that we come back next week on Wednesday following the Primaries.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

Let us pray.

Almighty God, who alone gavest us the breath of life, and alone canst keep alive in us the holy desire Thou dost impart, we beseech Thee, for Thy compassion's sake, to sanctify all our thoughts and endeavors, that we may neither begin an action without a pure intention nor continue it without Thy blessing.

MAJOR GENERAL DANIEL B. STRICKLER, FORMER LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA, PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Gentlemen of the Senate, we are really honored today by having with us one of our most distinguished citizens, a former Lieutenant-Governor of Pennsylvania, and one of our most distinguished soldiers. At this time, I would like to have the former Lieutenant-Governor, General Strickler, come to the rostrum.

REMARKS BY MAJOR GENERAL STRICKLER

GENERAL STRICKLER. Members of the Senate, I am delighted to be able to come back to Pennsylvania, after having been away for so long, before I enter a new assignment with the Armed Forces. I go now to Washington where I will be on the Secretary of the Army's Review Board Council, to take care of certain matters that he refers to the board for review and study.

I, of course, often thought of Pennsylvania when I was in Europe. You will remember, several years ago I came up to say good-bye to you just before the 28th Division sailed for Germany. The experiences I have had over there have been really very gratifying. It is the first time since I have been in military service that I had the opportunity to be in Europe in so-called peace times where you can see how things operate, see the attitude of the German people, particularly, and see the cooperation that they are trying to get going with Germany, England, France, Holland, Belgium and the rest of the NATO Nations.

First, of course, our mission over there, in which you are interested, was of a military nature because this State sent out the 28th Division, some 10,000 Pennsylvania boys, to do that job over there. As one of the divisions of the Army over there, we immediately found that we had to be in battle position, ready within an hour's notice to stop the Russian forces if they crossed the frontier of the iron curtain line, which was just several miles away from us. It is one of altertness and it is still that way.

I am convinced that all of the money and the effort that we made in Europe has held in line the NATO Nations which are stemming the communistic tide. Whether or not we could stop an aggressive action on the part of the Russians and where, is a big question. However, I am convinced that the NATO Nations kept in our camp and prevented the communistic efforts within from joining the communistic cause.

The Pennsylvania boys are practically all back. I am one of the last ones to come back to America.

I would also like to pay tribute to my experience in Italy after I left the Division. Last fall, I was sent to Italy to be Chief of the Military Assistance Advisory Group, to work with the American Ambassador and the Italian government officials in putting across a rehabilitation program for Italy and the rebuilding of their Armed Forces.

While as President of the Senate here some years ago, I enjoyed the handling of figures of millions of dollars in connection with the budget, along with the rest of you. In Italy, where they had billions of dollars that had to be watched and used in a nation that was trying to come back and become a partner in the NATO cause, it was quite a job.

Our job was threefold. One was to give financial assistance to help them come back economically, and also to get the equipment to do a job in case anything happened. We had to see that they knew how to use the equipment. If you remember, Italy was defeated by us, along with the Allies, and they had nothing left at the end of the war. Now we are trying to put back in their hands all the things necessary to handle as a part of an armed force. They must learn how to use it.

For instance, you might be interested to know that a tank is worth a quarter of a million dollars, $250,000. In a division they have about 110, which is over two billion dollars worth of just tanks alone. Those tanks have to be operated properly or that money is lost. Then comes the question of maintenance, how to keep them in repair and maintained. We must have people in Italy who know how to do it; otherwise, they ruin them in a couple days' time. It was our job to assist them and help them, to teach them and instruct them to use them properly.

As far as the Italian people are concerned, they have my high admiration for the extreme effort they have made to try to make good again as one of the partners of the NATO Nations. They have an experience of growing up in a parliamentary type of democratic government. They have to learn through their Chamber of Deputies and through their Senate, their parliamentary bodies, to act in democratic ways. They have many parties and, of course, they are somewhat like France, where the parties have to have a coalition in order to gain a majority to run the American system which they are trying to follow, or at least those in democratic countries.

It is interesting to note, however, that the Communists, of course, in Italy as in other countries, are always against anything that America tries to do. They oppose the American people's assistance if they can. However, the interesting thing is that if anything does go through that is for the good of the country, the Communists take credit for it and say that we forced the government to do it. If it fails, they say that it failed because they were not for it. That is the way they keep up the contention from time to time.

I think the thing that is more interesting to me than anything else is the fact that people of different nationalities are trying to get along, in spite of the language barriers and in spite of the fact that they have a strong nationalistic feeling in all nations over there. The coal and iron community project is now in force over there, whereby the countries of England, Germany, France and the Lowlands are trying to pool their interests economically so that everybody may get what is necessary for rebuilding an economic future.

I would like to take the time and tell you some of the things which I think might be of extreme interest to you. Sometime when I see you individually, I will be very glad to give you any impressions I may have gained.

Thank you very much for allowing me to appear.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. General Strickler, we are having a party tonight, given by the Newspaper Correspondents, and if you wish to find out what happened during your absence, I would like to have you as my special guest. You will find out what we have been doing.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, this bill makes it mandatory for all State authorities in the Commonwealth to submit their programs to the General Assembly at each Session for approval.

Mr. President, from the figures that I have compiled, there have been bonds floated now totaling about $200,000,000. It seems to me that since we are striving for economy we should exercise some control over the expenditures of these authorities.

Mr. President, if my memory serves me correctly, I think there is a $90,000,000 item in the current budget for carrying charges and rentals, as a result of construction by these authorities. They tell me—I do not know whether it is true or not, but I got it from a pretty good source—that if the expenditures continue, we will in about eight years find an item in the budget totaling about $190,000,000, which will create a financial problem for the Legislature so far as taxes are concerned.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. YOSKO read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 592, entitled:

An Act making mandatory, the submission to, and the approval of, the General Assembly programs of proposed projects of State Authorities at each regular session.

SENATE RESOLUTION

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

DIRECTING JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE STUDY OF PENSIONS, PENSION FUNDS AND PENSION PLANS

Mr. WADE offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Insurance.

In the Senate, May 13, 1953.

Whereas, Pensions, pension funds, and pension plans form perhaps one of the largest segments of the business conducted by life insurance companies, and, in addition, there exists hundreds of private pension plans in this Commonwealth, and because of the lack of adequate legislation regulating the same, no one knows the extent of this field nor the soundness of many of the plans, and

Whereas, In many cases they provide the only old age retirement security for thousands of our citizens, and

Whereas, Unless this Commonwealth enacts such legislation, the Federal government may gain control of this field through inaction on the part of the State, even though such control properly belongs to the individual states in accordance with the pattern established in all other segments and phases of insurance; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to make a thorough study of the state of pensions, pension funds and pension plans, public and private, in this Commonwealth with a view toward legislation saving control thereof for this Commonwealth as opposed to the Federal government; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall make a report of its findings and recommendations, together with drafts of proposed legislation necessary to effectuate the same to the General Assembly at its next regular session.

REQUESTING THAT ALL APPROPRIATION BILLS BE ITEMIZED

Mr. YOSKO offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 13, 1953.

Whereas, The time has arrived that the people of Pennsylvania should be fully informed of the financial needs of the Commonwealth for the biennium beginning June 1, 1953 and ending May 31, 1955, and

Whereas, To this date appropriration bills toward that end have not been presented for the consideration of the Legislature in spite of the fact that taxes to meet appropriations are under consideration, and

Whereas, Since the current biennium will end on May 31, 1953, it is in the public interest that the true financial condition of the Commonwealth should be made known as soon after May 31st as is possible, and

Whereas, For that purpose a true and correct statement of the following should be presented to the Commonwealth:

a. Accounts receivable from all sources
b. Accounts payable to all sources
c. Departmental surpluses or deficiencies
d. Unexpended appropriation balances of the current and previous bienniums
e. Taxes receivable from all sources by taxpayer by year

Therefore Be It Resolved, That appropriation bills to meet the financial needs of the Commonwealth for the biennium beginning June 1, 1953 and ending May 31, 1955 be introduced without further delay, and

Be It Further Resolved, That all appropriation bills be itemized by object classification indicating the specific items of expenditure to be allocated to the different agencies of the Commonwealth, and

Be It Further Resolved, That a statement of the true financial condition of the Commonwealth be presented to the Legislature by the Administration, which shall include items named herein on or before May 18, 1953.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

MAJOR GENERAL DANIEL B. STRICKLER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER Pro tempore. The Chair is pleased to see in the Hall of the House today, a very distinguished guest, Major General Daniel B. Strickler.

The Chair appoints as a committee of escort the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood, and the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, to escort the General to the rostrum. In the absence of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, the Chair appoints the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

MAJOR GENERAL DANIEL B. STRICKLER. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, it is very kind of you indeed to recognize me as being present here today, and ask me to come up and say "Hello" and a few words.

I have very fond recollections of serving here in the House back in the 1931 Session. I also visited the House quite a number of times when I was Lieutenant Governor some four or five years ago.

I wish I could take the time to sit down and really talk to you about my experiences in Europe when I was the Commanding General of your Pennsylvania Division and which was called into federal service by our government and sent over to Europe as one of the six divisions over there in connection with the NATO armies.

It was my experience this time to have the opportunity to observe how things are run in Europe in peace time as it is supposed to be at the present time. As you know, I was over there twice, in World War 1 and World War II in combat phases when things were quite different.

Our experiences as a division were very well worthwhile, and I am sure that the some ten thousand Pennsylvania boys who went over with us got a great deal out of being over there and being associated with the German people, also being associated with our comrades in arms of the allied nations, the British, the French, the Belgian, and the Netherlands troops that were holding down the line along the Iron Curtain.

You got sort of a peculiar feeing when you realized that you were given a position within just a few miles of a line on one side of which were the Russian forces, and on the other side of which were the American forces. We had to be alert, combat-ready, and effective to be able to man the line in battle position within one hour's notice in case anything started.

I believe our presence there, and I believe the presence of the forces there today in Germany, keep the Russians from overrunning Europe. Above all, it gives a great security feeling to the Western European nations by our presence there; and if there were a tendency to join up with the Communists, or subscribe to that "ism," certainly our help there, and our presence has kept the nations—or some of the people of the nations—from following the Communistic line.

I was sent down to Italy last November as Chief of the Military Assistance and Advisory Group to the Italian government representing the American government. The experience there was very, very interesting to me. Here was a nation that was defeated in World War II, that had been our enemy, and that had joined, after the treaty of peace was signed with Italy, the NATO nations.

Italy being one of the partners of those nations is trying to come back economically, trying at the same time to build up its armed forces to help the allied cause, and they are doing a great job. They are very cooperative. They want to do everything possible, keeping in mind their own national integrity, and keeping in mind the program of the NATO nations to hold off Communism in Europe.

The unique part about that, and the experience I gained, was the value of what we called the country team. The Ambassador in Rome is the head of that team and he has the military representative, which was the part I had, and the Minister or Counsel who looks after the State Department end, and the Mutual Security Agency head who looks after the Mutual Assistance Agency program.

The four of us daily and weekly, on bigger conferences, would sit down and work out these tremendous problems involving Italy, because there were hundreds of millions of dollars to be used to help Italy regain itself and to build up its military forces.

We also had to work as a team with the Italian Government officials. The Italian Government, as you know, is going through its growing stages in the parliamentary form of government or democracy, their Senate and their Chamber of Deputies running the Italian country. It was very encouraging to me to see how anxious they were and how they tried so hard to adopt the principles of democracy in the way of handling the affairs of the people, in handling the matter of taxes, and in handling the matter of economical readjustment. They will be self-sufficient, in my opinion, pretty soon. Of course, nationally they have a problem because they lost every bit of their war equipment. When World War II ended, they were an enemy and everything was confiscated. Now we must re-supply some 10 to 15 divisions, their troops, army, navy and air force with the kind of equipment so they can do a job with us as part of the NATO forces.

I have been asked so often by Members of the House here and in Washington, and Members of the Senate, and government people, "Well after all what good is our American money doing over in Europe?" That is a big question that many departments would have to analyze to answer. But, from my own personal view, I think it is doing a great deal of good. It is doing at least the job of holding the line until Europe can readjust itself and assume the responsibilities which we expect them to assume.

Again it would be useless in my opinion, for us to have spent all the millions and billions of dollars we spent in Europe and see it go to waste just because we did not see it through to the end, and permit Communism to take over Europe.

The peoples of Europe are respectful of America. They are sometimes skeptical of the reasons as to why we do things. As an Army man, my own personal feeling about all those things, as I have said so often, is that when any program, whether it is spending, whether it is leading, whether it is commanding, or whether it is a team operation, or whatever it is, the people want to know the what, when, where, how and why, and then they will cooperate a great deal more. I found that so true with handling men in the service, working with them. They want to know the answers to those questions, and it helps a great deal.

Now I am back in Washington with the Secretary of the Army, and as a member of this review board we are handling some of the matters that he refers to us for review in connection with the work of the Department of Defense.

It has been a pleasure to be with you today, and I would love some day to sit down and tell you some of the inside things about how people work in Europe.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair wishes to thank General Strickler for honoring this House with his presence. I understand that the General is just recovering from a long sick spell and convalescing in the Walter Reed Hospital. We are certainly happy to see him out and around. Thanks, General, come back again.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair is happy to welcome to the Hall of the House a former Member from Wayne County, Honorable George W. Firmstone.

The classification of any applicant for retirement or disability pension shall be determined as follows

(1) If the applicant has held the position he holds at the time of making the application continuously for one year or more prior thereto pension shall be granted as of the classification into which such position falls

(2) If the applicant has not held such position continuously for one year or more pension shall be granted as of the classification into which the last preceding position which he held continuously for one year or more falls whether such classification is higher or lower than the classification of the position held by applicant at the time of making the application

The increase in pension payment herein provided shall be deemed cost-of-living increases for a period of four years from the effective date of this amending act and in no event shall any decrease in living costs result in decreasing the schedule of pension payments in 1957 to an amount less than the schedule of pension payments in effect prior to the passage of this amending act

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, this is another pension bill affecting only the City of Pittsburgh, and I ask careful consideration on the part of all the Members of the House, even though it is effective only in our own city.

We asked for a careful roll call on the prior bill which dealt, of course, with the police pension bill. This deals with the firemen's pension bill.

For the information of the House, I do not know whether they are well-informed on the other side or on this side, but the thing is this: There are twelve or thirteen hundred policemen involved in the prior bill. In this bill there are over a thousand involved, who are paying into this pension fund. The pension fund, as it is today, is on a sound basis. The amount of money in this bill is intended to be a cost of living increase to several hundred men who are on pension.

The fund, of course, belongs to the entire 1300. But these several hundred are to get $20 additionally from this bill, and this is only to last for three or four years, similar to the bill that was just passed which would give $20 more from the police pension. That money belongs to all these people. They are paying into it.

The City of Pittsburgh has not contributed one nickel to these funds for the past six or eight years; I forget the exact number of years, but the thing has to be a sound fund if in four years this $20 additional is given to several hundred men. Therefore, when the fund is depleted, how will it again return to a sound basis? We are not certain whether it means additional money from the taxing bodies. I do not believe it will be too much of an increase to the individuals who are paying in. This surplus will be used up in two, three, or four years.

These two bills are tying the hands of the next legislative session in that they say that these $20 should be given to those who are now on pension. For your information, some of you who were not here two years ago, these same bills were here and asked for $35 increase in pension, on the same basis as these bills are being passed today, where they asked for a cost of living increase.

This is a ticklish subject I realize, and I beg forgiveness in being timid in arising to oppose any pension bill. The City of Pittsburgh is not fighting these bills. We are only guardians of the pension fund. We do contribute as we do to all other funds, but here are thirteen hundred men, as in the case of the policemen, probably 1500 men, who have a fund. Here you are going to permit for two or more years, those who are now on pension to receive more to the extent of $20 a month, then you come into the House four years from now, and what are you going to tell that Legislature to do with those who are eligible to pension from then on?

As I said, I was timid to rise on these two bills. I thought the facts would be shown to the people on the other side as well as to my own group, as you have noticed two or three over on this side of my own have voted for it. But since it has come to this point I think it is only fair to let you people know what is going on with a fund which has nothing to do with politics. It is a matter of 1200 men in one instance. 1300 men in another, as to what you are going to permit them to do in the City of Pittsburgh with their money, guarded by the fathers of our city administration.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise in defense of this bill because we think it is good legislation, helping some needy people who really need this money.

This bill, as you know was not put in the hopper two weeks ago; it was put in the hopper at the start of the session. At that time the sponsors of these bills, 133 and 330, the police and the firemen of Pittsburgh, came to us here in Harrisburg, and told us that they had gone to the Mayor of Pittsburgh, and the Council of Pittsburgh, and asked if they were against this legislation. At that time they told them they were not for it or against it. So they came down here and told us that story.

At that time I asked a couple of the Members of the Democratic party from Allegheny County to check with the Mayor and the Council and see if this statement was true. We waited five or six weeks, and got no report back from these Members. So finally, the bills were brought out of Committee, put on the calendar, and as soon as they hit the floor there was a little demand for a hearing.

Saturday a week ago I called at Mayor Lawrence's Secretary's office. I met with the Secretary of the Firemen's Pension Fund, Secretary of the Policemen's Pension Fund, the City Solicitor, and my good friend, Doctor Sarraf. At that time they asked that we hold the bill up and have a meeting of the Allegheny delegation here in Harrisburg the following Tuesday so they could present their facts, which we did. We held the meeting last Tuesday. The Secretary to the Mayor was here, the Secretary of both Pension Funds were here, and we had a meeting up in the Old Caucus Room. At that meeting the facts were brought out that there was enough money in this pension fund that they could continue with this $20 across the board raise from three and one-half to six years. So at that time we agreed we would put this thing on a temporary set-up as a cost-of-living raise for four years, and as you all know, I had to have unanimous consent of the House to put those amendments in on third reading, which I did. There was no complaint then and for the love of me, I do not know why there is a complaint right now. This cost of living raise, if at the end of four years, is going to hurt the city of Pittsburgh, which it can't hurt until then, will be wiped out. It has to be re-enacted at the end of four years. If the money is there now to take care of it, these men are deserving of it. They gave the City of Pittsburgh their time; they worked hard; a lot of them are sick today and need this money to live on, and I ask my colleagues on this side of the House to go along, and the other side of the House, to pass this needed legislation for these firemen.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I did not care to prolong any debate since all the things that Mr. Vaughan has said are absolutely correct, yet there was one thing that was apparently left out.

In the original, as Mr. Vaughan stated before Council in the city of Pittsburgh, as I told you, these funds were very solid. There is extra money to the extent of close to $650,000 excess in the policemen's fund. In the Firemen's fund, close to $750,000. Therefore, the city did not care what they did, particularly as the original bill was drawn, it was $30 across the board. A settlement was made between everybody that they would only have an increase of $20 a month.

At the time a hearing was called in Pittsburgh, since Mr. Vaughan has divulged what went on in the Mayor's office, I think it is only fair to tell you what went on in the Republican caucus of the Members from Allegheny County. At that time it was stated that these funds would not be exhausted—in one instance as much as nine or ten years, I think that was the instance of the firemen. In the other, about seven or eight years. The request for the hearing was because of the fact wherein we heard from our people that these funds may be exhausted within a period ranging anywhere from two and one-half to four or five years. There was some sort of adjustment after the hearing wherein they thought that four years was sufficient.

I want to stress this point to you, if this were a bill that included every man who is contributing from now on to receive the same amount of money and share in this fund—this excess—I think a bill of that type may have passed this House a lot more readily. There would have been a definite fight on it. But since, as I told you, the leadership of our party in Pittsburgh are not entering into this picture, but there are men who are like myself apparently, tempted to speak forth.

You, sitting here as Legislators, can see that a fund that has an excess, individuals should be given certain privileges to extend only for four years and then after that the other thousand in one case, the other twelve hundred in the other case, who are continuing to pay do not know where they will stand, because this bill states specifically in four years they will have to come in here somebody, either the city or the firemen must come in here and propose a bill to us who are here, if we are here, therefore, this sort of bills should be moved very, very slowly, with the men paying having also some portion of this excess money that lies in their good fund.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker, I ask consent of the House to discuss House Bill 573 and House Bill 574 on Page 20 of today's calendar, which happens to be a companion measure.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the discussion of both bills? Is there objections? The Chair hears none, and consent is granted.

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker, the net effect of House Bills 573 and 574 is to outlaw the machinery tax in Erie, although from a cursory examination of the two bills one would gather that they apparently deal with Erie County.

Bills 573 and 574 will deprive the City of Erie of $105 thousand in taxes for the remainder of the year and the school district of the City of Erie of $135 thousand for the last six months of this year.

In 1954 and every year thereafter, if these bills are enacted into law, the City of Erie will lose $210 thousand and the school district of the City of Erie will lose $270 thousand. The bills go into effect July 1st of this year and will force the city and school district to resort to bank loans.

Since under Act 481 the wage tax in Erie is limited to one percent, the elimination of the machinery tax will be about a fifteen percent increase in the real estate tax for the city and the school district.

This will work an undue hardship on the small home owner who has already received a higher city tax and a higher school tax bill for 1953 as a result of a new triennial assessment. The same small home owner has been paying the new quarterly sewer rental bill and of course as a wage earner he has been paying a one percent city wage tax since 1949.

I would not be here opposing these bills were it not for the fact that the small home owner has been hit so hard this year. Even Republican Councilman Kenneth Momeyer has stated publicly that the effect of the new assessment in Erie should not have been to place the greatest burden on the small taxpayer in Erie.

Much has been said about how unfair the machinery tax is, yet each of us would have to admit privately that stationary machinery is the only conceivable part of a plant capable of producing a profit. The stone, the mortar, the brick merely provide shelter for the machinery. Were this not true, this old law would not be on the statutes for these many years.

Even my colleague has admitted in the local press that in many communities in our country and in the state the assessment of machinery is not itemized separately but is included as a part of the assessment on the building.

We in Erie prefer to itemize the machinery tax rather than to hide it like a federal processing tax. The machinery tax in Erie is assessed only on stationary machinery bolted to or cemented in the floor. Office equipment, jitneys or portable equipment are not included in the assessment.

It has been said that the machinery tax will drive industry out of Pennsylvania. If that be the case I am surprised that the sponsor has included an amendment in one of these two bills which exempts Allegheny County from the provisions of these bills. Does the machinery tax levied in Erie fall with any heavier impact on the industry in Erie than on the industry in Allegheny County?

Incidentally the same assessing firm from Ohio, which assessed the Erie machinery has been continuously assessing the machinery for the Commissioners of Allegheny County for the past several years.

Those who look upon Bills 573 and 574 as an Erie problem will shortly be confronted with a new set of bills taking away from Allegheny County the privilege of assessing machinery.

This session is not over yet. There has been no deadline set for introduction of bills. In the final outcome the elimination of the machinery tax either in Erie or elsewhere should not be construed by us as a 100 percent saving to the manufacturer.

Let us take a hypothetical case. Suppose you pay a machinery tax of $1,000 to the City of Erie. This is included as a deduction on your income tax return. If you do not have to pay the machinery tax to Erie and your profits are under $25 thousand you pay about $300 of this $1,000 net profit as income tax.

If your profit is over $25,000, you pay approximately 52 percent of this $1,000 that you did not have to pay as machinery tax in the city of Erie to the Federal government.

To a certain degree, therefore, the question of paying or not paying the machinery tax in Erie is a choice between investing the tax money in your local community to help pay for local city services and to help support education locally or paying a smaller amount to the federal government in the form of income tax on net profit or tax on excess profits.

Furthermore, Mr. Speaker, we have been here four and a half months and we have failed to solve our own state fiscal problems. If we cannot solve our own fiscal problems, why should we by our votes help to corrupt the financial problems of our political subdivisions back home?

I now wish to read some communications from several organizations which are vitally interested in the provisions of these two bills.

The Erie Central Labor Union urges you to vote against House Bills 573 and 574. Erie Central Labor Union—Alton Ross, Corresponding Secretary.

The City of Erie Improvement League, representing some four thousand members, urges that you do not support House Bills 573 and 574. The United States Supreme Court has upheld the machinery tax and we feel it should be left that way.

The State Federation of Labor is on record against these two bills and respectfully urges you to vote against House Bills 573 and 574. Positive action would shift tax burden to those least able to pay. Present method of taxation is based on actual property value and is only method on which taxes should be levied. Pennsylvania CIO Council—Harry Block, Secretary.

Seven hundred teachers of Erie ask you to help defeat House Bills 573 and 574, which would cost Erie $270,000 in loss of revenue aid and the school districts slightly lower. Dr. R. Nelson Hale, President, Erie Branch PSEA, 27 W. 33rd, Erie, Pa.

Mr. Speaker, I believe that in view of the fact, that we are already placing in Erie an undue burden on the small home owner by the new triennial assessment, by the city wage tax and by the new sewer rental levy, I hope reason will prevail in this House and that our two valuable subdivisions back home will not be forced to go to the banks for loans.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Polaski, this bill has had very careful study and I could have read dozens of telegrams and communications from Erie in support of the measures. These did not come just from industry; they came from workers, they came from the Chamber of Commerce and people who are interested in Erie.

Yes, this is an Erie proposition. We are assessing in Erie as you know machinery and real estate. I have no fight with Erie if they want to assess machinery as machinery under Act 481 and put their half of one percent or one percent on that. But when you say you have a building that is worth $100,000 and you have $200,000 worth of machinery in it and we are going to assess you $300,000 and we are going to charge you the flat real estate millage; then I say that that is definitely wrong.

We say it has not been fair. I am going to give you a couple of figures here and ask you if you think it has been fair. In 1949 one of the smaller industries in Erie had a city assessment of $114,600, with a city tax of $1,634. In 1950, when they started their machinery assessment, that assessment went from $114,600 to $289,780, with a city tax of $4,543.75. In 1949 the school assessment was $114,600 and, of course, under the same school assessment, using the machinery it went up to the $289,780. The total tax in 1949 was $2,723.47—the same business and as I say, and not a large business, paid city and school tax of $9,513.48, which is not quite four times, but in excess of three times the tax in one year, additional tax.

Now the gentleman from Erie says that we can deduct it. If you have a nice profit, surely; and the more profit, of course, the more you can take as credit, or, in other words, the smaller amount you would be paying. But we may as well face it that the honeymoon is over, future profits are certain to be small, if you get them. In my own business the first four months of this year, we had a 3.2 percent profit before taxes on each dollar of business. That can very well fade away to a loss instead of a profit. So the fact that you can deduct from something that you do not have is certainly not a very encouraging picture for industry to look at.

I do not want to make a long talk. I do not want to take the time of the House. With reference to Allegheny County, Allegheny County is out, surely. Allegheny County has probably as much industry as can find a place to light. We do have a lot of places in the state where industry could settle. But I do not believe that industry is going to be too interested in settling here if they think they are going to get rapped good and plenty, when many places are willing to give them ten years without taxes, build them their buildings and let them amortize it over a twenty year period.

You know, the old saying killing the goose that laid the golden egg certainly applies here. You can keep pulling feathers out of the goose until you just do not have a goose. No one knows that better than the hard coal sections. When they got to raising the prices, thinking the people could not get along without it, as you know and I know, most of the people there are now working about two days a week. That could very well apply to the state of Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania could very well find herself in the same position as many states in New England, who took advantage of the fact that they had industry and thought they could not lose it. If you do not think we are losing it, all you have to do is to take a trip through the West or the South. We are getting some industry but it is a mere pittance in comparison with what many other states are getting in regard to new industry.

He said Allegheny County would get such a bill in this session. I am surprised that the gentleman from Erie would make that remark, because it was apparently an effort to scare the gentlemen from Allegheny County who are Members of the House. I wish to assure the gentlemen from Allegheny County, that is the Representatives, that they may be assured there will be no such bill from this side of the house, or at least anything that I know about this session, or any other session so far as I am concerned, and that is saying a lot.

He said I made an admission in Erie papers that many communities were using it. I do not know what the papers printed but I can tell you here and now that I never made such an admission. I have said that this would only affect the City of Erie, as they are the only ones who are using the machinery assessment outside of Allegheny County. And I want to reiterate the statement.

I hope the Members can see fit to support this legislation. It is good legislation, it is good for industry, It is good for labor, it is good for Pennsylvania, and it has had a lot of study.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Waterhouse.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I shall Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Waterhouse, I believe there is a prevailing impression here among the Members of the House that this bill affects only Erie. Now I ask yau, would this bill affect any other community excepting Allegheny County? Would it affect any other community besides Erie in the state?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. In reply to the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, the only community that is levying a tax on machinery as real estate is the city of Erie and the county of Allegheny, so therefore, it would not affect the tax structure of any other part of the state.

Mr. MAXWELL. I would like to further interrogate the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

I personally believe that the way these different communities assess the manufacturing plants and industries in their respective communities is not by the valuation of the building, or by the valuation of the land on which these building are. I think they combine the building with the contents within them as to what they are actually worth. Is that not the way they assess them?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. They could continue to assess as they are assessing, Mr. Speaker, so long as they do not define that they were assessing machinery and that they could substantiate the assessment they make on the roperty. Because even now, if they thought the assessment was exorbitant, they could take it to court and ave the court rule as to whether or not the assessment as in line, and further of course, they assess them as usiness property. I think you will grant that a lot is ken into consideration there.

Mr. MAXWELL. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker. Members of the House, I may be wrong, but the way understand this bill, any community that has a manuacturing concern or an industry, I believe they take into onsideration not only the land and the building, but hat is in the building when they assess that property. n asmuch as all these communities have at this time made p their budget, and I fully believe they have assessed ese different industries not just for the shell, not just r the building or just for the land on which it sets, but ey have assessed also the contents of that building in eir assesment.

I am very much afraid that if this bill passes it would mbarrass these communities as far as their expected evenue is concerned and completely throw out of kilter eir entire tax plan for the rest of the year.

If any of you Members in the House have any manuacturing plants in your community, to be on the safe ide I would suggest that you vote against this bill.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, coming from a sixth class ounty, a rural county, that has installations of the large asher type pertaining to coal mines, in our county and n many of the other counties in this Commonwealth the ssessed valuations of those installations on the tax ooks are partly based upon the equipment that is in at installation.

As I see this bill—and I have read it very very carelly—I am very fearful that this is not the type of legisation that will do my county or any other county in this tate any good in settling their very serious assessment roblems.

At the present time we are engaged in a contract with he same concern that assessed Allegheny County. We re spending $100,000 to assess these very installations. When I speak of installations, I talk of United States teel, Jones and Laughlin, Bethlehem Steel, Republic teel Corporation, Hillman Coal and Coke, Youngstown heet and Coke—concerns of that type, large concerns.

We endeavor to increase the assessed valuation of those uildings, contending full well that the machinery is the ain part of the building around which the building s designed and built. We have a part of that assessment. Ve contend we do not have the right amount of it.

Coming from an area that is part rural and is developng into a field that will be some day a great industrial enter of our state, I ask that those of you who come rom areas such as I do stand up, regardless of the party r the side of the House that you are on, and stick to he fact that you must include in the assessed valuation f an installation that is wholly designed and built for specific purpose, that you must assess a building that ost $100,000 and have therein $1 million worth of pernanent machinery to operate it at a total cost of a million nd one quarter dollars for installation and building.

For that reason, Mr. Speaker I urge all of the Memers of this House to go on record and oppose this bill or the sake of the future as well as the present on our ustified taxation program that we must meet at home.

This bill does not pertain to Erie, it pertains to every county in Pennsylvania except Allegheny. Therefore it covers all of us except Allegheny County.

I think you should take time to read carefully and to think what can happen in your own community, in your own township, what can happen to your school program that has an assessed valuation basis, the money that you get there, as well as your county. Yes, you can go to court. You can go to court if you desire, but you and I agree—as we all must eventually agree—that the assessed valuations of those installations must be brought into consideration with the machinery as well as the building.

I would like to state, Mr. Speaker, that I believe all the Members of this House should give full support to my stand and oppose the bill.

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to prolong the debate here today on these two bills. However, I would like to answer one statement made by the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Waterhouse.

He brought up an example of a firm which had its total assessment increased approximately two and one-half times. For the information of the Members of the House, I would like to bring up the fact that the total assessment in Erie is up two and one-half times as a result of the triennial assessment and many small home owners have received an assessment, sometimes as high as three times the original assessment of a year ago. That is why I say it is not only the fact that the small home owner has been dealt a blow in being given an assessment three times the original assessment, but also he is paying a city wage tax and he is paying a new sewer rental tax.

In other words the little fellow in Erie is certainly not getting away from taxes. I am here opposing these bills because I would like to have industry and commercial properties pay their just share of the load.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to point out to the Members of the House that this represents more than an attempt to limit the taxing powers of the city of Erie. I am concerned with the basic principle involved, especially as it concerns the school districts of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

For a long time many of us, and I think this is true of Members on both sides of the House, have agreed that it would be highly desirable to have as much of the support of schools as possible come from the local districts. This bill, as far as it affects the support of schools, makes a basic change. Up to now we had extended certain abilities to tax to school districts. If this bill is successful, it will withdraw a part of the present ability of school districts to tax property.

This is a step in the direction of more state support, since obviously every time you take away the ability of the local district to support schools, there is only one other place they can look for support, and that is to the state.

As I understand it, not very many Members of this House are in favor at the moment of making large increases in the amount of their share in the support of schools that the state is making. If you do not favor that kind of trend, then it seems to me you must look at the basic problem involved in this bill. Are you going to withdraw from local school districts the ability to impose a tax on themselves for the support of schools? It may be that some communities may have decided that they will tax themselves some other way than to impose a tax which would include the value of machinery.

Perhaps the district which the gentleman who sponsors this bill represents has made that decision, but they have not made that decision in the city of Erie. The gentleman who sponsors this bill, I understand, does not live in that city, and I do not live in that city, and the rest of you, with the exception of two, do not live in that city. I say to you that we should give the people of the city of Erie, or any other city, the ability to tax themselves in the manner in which they desire.

There is only one answer. If you take away this power, and you take away other taxing powers that they now have, to raise their own school money, and support their own schools, you must replace it by greater appropriations from state funds to take the place of it.

I appeal to all of you who are in favor of maintaining as large a percentage of local support for schools as possible to vote in order to make it possible for them to continue to have that power. In other words, let us consider the basic problem here. What are we doing? Are you going on record as taking away from the local districts the power to support their own schools? I leave the question with you, and I urge you to think it over carefully before voting on this bill.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Very briefly, Mr. Speaker, we are not taking a thing away from the schools. I am not going to take any time, because we want to get out of here, and I know you do.

If they want to tax machinery, they can do it under personal property, under 481, they can get it just the same. But they cannot tax it as real estate and turn around and slap them under 481 in addition to it. That is just about what will happen if you leave it the way it is.

Mr. LOVETT. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Waterhouse.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Waterhouse, let us be fair about this thing. Why is Allegheny County exempt?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. We just felt that Allegheny County had their financial set-up pretty much set. They do not have any more room for industry there anyway. Erie does have, and I think if they will economize up there just a little bit, they can get along without this. I want to be fair, and that is why I sponsored this legislation.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I have always felt that in being fair we should give the same right of taxation in any county or municipality. Therefore, I do not think we are being fair if we exempt any county.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. MORAN, POLASKI and READINGER.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. LOVETT. I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. LOVETT. May I ask the gentleman from Allegheny County why he changed his vote from yea to nay if the bill does not affect Allegheny County?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would say that the gentleman is out of order at this time. There is nothing before the House except the verification of the roll.

Agreeably to order,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Ways and Means for the purpose of further study.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the question we face is where do we go from here. We cannot as a responsible, reasonably intelligent and I believe conscientious House remain at a perpetual deadlock.

The action today will serve to clarify the atmosphere, will make it possible to answer questions for which there should be answers. If I ask you today what exactly is the financial situation of the Commonwealth, what are the accounts receivable, to what extent has the budget for the current biennium been over-estimated or under-estimated, I doubt that there is a Member of this House who can tell me. And yet in any intelligent course of action designed to finance our Commonwealth those are points from which we should depart.

The atmosphere should be clarified and cleared of some of the smoke, smock, reckless accusations and statements made by people who are supposedly responsible but temporarily irresponsible.

I have here the Governor's budget. I see that he estimates that our current tax structure would yield us $846 million. It has been alleged that we Democrats sit in our places and vote for appropriations and will not vote for taxes. I would call to your attention that as far as the $846 million is concerned, the major part of it, almost all of it, bears our imprimatur just as it bears yours.

When the tax program in 1951 finally came up for final determination, we did not continue to interpose vetoes, nor would we in the present situation or in future situations continue in our place simply for the power of exercising vetoes.

The Republican Chairman should not have said that we support appropriations and never vote for taxes. The head of the Department of Welfare should not have maliciously been touring this state and saying that the Democratic minority was going to be responsible for the fact that state institutions would close. The trouble with that Department incidentally—and I had to say this sometime and I might as well say it now—the trouble with the Department of Welfare is that the man who runs a panty-waisted administration, with a social worker complex, fumbling, bungling, indecision, the kind of administration that since he has been in office has permitted the wrecking of $2,500,000 worth of fire alarm equipment utterly going to ruin because of neglect, and placed the problem on the desks of the members of the General State Authority to dig up the money to repair those evidences of neglect.

That man has been a millstone around the neck of the present administration ever since it began. The other branch of the Legislature suggests that he be prosecuted, sent to jail. Well I would keep him out of jail, but I would make him a professor in a female seminary.

Mr. Speaker, we have that $846 million-plus what could be raised by and through the means now employed as a part of our tax structure. There might be one or two exceptions, one or two cases, one or two bills that would not receive the support of the minority. But I would estimate that 85 or perhaps 90 percent of the $846 million insofar as it requires reenactment could, if all the Members were present, be reenacted tomorrow.

We should go about the business of financing the affairs of the Commonwealth in a business-like fashion and we have not done it. The trouble with this Session is, and it is no one's fault particularly that we came into the Session without a plan, without a program. Perhaps it was part of our duty to help formulate a program, but we have not had the occasion to obtrude ourselves into the councils of the majority.

We can raise a lot of money by the bills that we passed in 1951. We can finance the affairs of the Commonwealth for a year.

Now my heart goes out to Norman Wood who practically alone, single handed, has to combat the budget office and the department heads unfortified with the technical assistance necessary in order to screen the departmental requests that come before him.

Now what are we to do? I would give Norman Wood a sufficient appropriation to arm himself with analysts and auditors who could audit audits and I would examine these departmental requests. Oh yes, I would finance him the first year and I would give him until next January to come back and tell us how much of it was real and how much of it was phoney, which appropriations should be increased, which should be reduced.

I have a bill pending in Committee which would authorize His Excellency, the Governor, to transfer and combine various bureaus. We have not dealt fairly with the Chesterman Committee report. It was not all hooey. Most of it was maudlin, but here and there there were pay streaks and pay dirt, suggestions to which this General Assembly should have accorded more generous attention than it received.

We should have time to consider what portion of that report can be salvaged, and we need an accountant-general or a legislative comptroller, working with the Chairman of our Appropriation Committee who can tell us day by day and week by week and month by month just exactly where the Commonwealth stands so far as its finances are concerned, what the balance is in every fund and to what extent the money appropriated for particular funds has actually been expended for those purposes.

If we would raise as much of the $860 million, as we can, if we would finance the affairs of the Commonwealth for a year, and if we would put our Appropriation Committee at work on the problem, fortified with competent technical help, we could well afford, after we raised as much of the $860 million as we can, after we had financed the Commonwealth's Departments for a year, recess until next January or adjourn sine die and meet in January with a program, a financial program, an appropriation program that could be put across in two weeks.

A special session would be a far cheaper investment for the people of this Commonwealth than a session protracted into goodness only knows when.

I had expected to say some things about a sales tax. Upon some other occasion I may discuss that proposal for the purpose of orienting it, getting it into its proper prospective. As for today, I will accord to the Majority Leader the privilege of singing the requiem of this dear dead corpse, or proclaiming his faith that while the body sleeps it still throbs with the breath of life and always threatens while in Committee that it will come forth from the sepulcher clad in all its grave habiliments.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked an obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I want to assure the Members and the people of Pennsylvania that it was with a great deal of reluctance today that we sent the sales tax bill back to Committee.

I want to join in what the Minority Leader says—do not consider the bill dead. I say that if we cannot broaden the base of our taxation in Pennsylvania, it will mean a group of nuisance taxes that we must enact in order to balance this budget, and the longer we delay, the longer the resentment against nuisance taxes increases. You will find that respect for this sales tax bill will increase and I am confident and hoping that before the Session is over we will enact it into law and once and for all put on a broad base tax in this great Commonwealth so that we can run our financial institutions without fear of financial ruin and despair every biennium we meet here.

I will say this about the sales tax I am not apologizing for the bill. I think it is a good bill. I think it is a fair bill. I think it is an equitable bill. I think so far as the small man is concerned it is the easiest way for him to step into line, put his shoulder to the wheel and help support this great Commonwealth. As we have repeatedly said here, unless the average person drinks or smokes or dies or becomes incorporated, they do not pay a cent of direct tax to this great state. It is time that everybody joined in the task of helping to run our Commonwealth and helping to provide us with funds to run this great state.

Before we came up with this sales tax bill, the budget was given a great deal of thought, a great deal of consideration. I have told you here on the floor how we thought maybe we could cut the budget ten percent acress the board, but as you analyze each budget item, you will find how impossible that would be, how foolish a thing like that would be. I have said repeatedly we could not cut the $88 million that we must put into the pot to pay off our bonds during this biennium. You cannot cut that ten percent, and I say you cannot cut the $503 million school budget ten percent. There are some places where you probably could cut, but it all added up to the fact after we had made $20 million worth of cuts, some people said they were not very sensible and that we still needed $137 million.

The Members in our caucus, many of them, came up with the suggestion that we must have a broad base tax, and they considered all the taxes. We gave the income tax pretty fair treatment last Session and that only left us the sales tax this Session. Our caucus, the big majority of them—only a very, very small handful of them were opposed—went on record in favor of this bill; and they still want the bill. They want to put it through as the great hope for the financial affairs in the future of this state. But be that as it may, we have not given up on the matter. To try to find that many nuisance taxes to try to balance this budget is going to be a prodigious job.

Last Session it took us three weeks to come up with the taxes with which we did come up. I might say, if I recall correctly, that Representative Polen and Representatives Hersch on the other side were the only two who voted for our substitute program, despite the fact that we needed that money to balance even the $800 million budget last session. I grant you the Minority did vote for the corporation bills increasing the corporate net and a few things like that, placing it on business, but on the substitute program we carried the ball alone. I believe we did have one or two votes from the other side, as I have stated.

I was quite surprised at what the Minority Leader had to say about Secretary Brown. I say Secretary Brown is one of the best Cabinet officials we have on Capitol Hill. I think he is a very able person. He might say some things he would not say if he thought them over before he said them, but let us picture this man. He started out the biennium and gave Governor Fine his budget, and it was a skimpy budget. It was a budget which did not begin to answer the needs of his department. Governor Fine lopped $14 million off that budget to begin with, and we have come along on our economy program—I am sorry I do not have the sheet here with me—but I believe we have also given him an additional cut. We sent a $120,000 deficiency appropriation bill over to the Senate which was merely to take care of increased salaries. We raised the salaries in the department last Session. It got over to the Senate and they cut it down to $93,000, and as a consequence, because of our delay, many employes have not had their pay.

It is a matter of public record that a good many of the buildings that have been constructed to house our welfare program in this state at present time have not been equipped. There is a lack of manpower, there is a slowness in getting equipment, and it is not entirely his fault. I say that the man, having heard him at Committee hearings, is a visionary person. I think he has a great heart. He is worried about the many people in this state who should be inside our welfare institutions and getting that training and that comfort that we the people are providing for them.

Secretary Brown, if we give him enough money will do a wonderful job for us. You are going to hear more about that soon, because he is running out of money and is going to be in great trouble with some of his hospitals, as you have already read in the public print.

Now I would say if Mr. Andrews—

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. ANDREWS. Will the gentleman yield for a question and answer it before he sits down?

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, may I finish my remarks and then I will yield.

Mr. ANDREWS. I just want the gentleman to include the answer in his remarks.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I will yield for a question.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the gentleman state during the course of his remarks whether we are to infer that none of the activities of the Commonwealth are to be financed as far as the Majority is concerned until it has succeeded in passing a sales tax?

Mr. JOHNSON. I will be very glad to answer that question.

Today we have introduced a $60 million stop-gap appropriation bill to tide us over until we are able to put through a revenue program. It is similar to a bill that we put in during 1951 when we were in a protracted Session and money was needed to carry on the current affairs of the various departments.

I want to say something about the Chesterman Report. We arrived here in January after reading many news releases about that report, full of hope and courage that that was a way out to finance the budget without any need for additional revenue. We got that impression from the newspapers. I do not believe the newspapers intended to give that impression, but we read where the Chesterman Report would mean a saving of $100 million. That would have been splendid had we been able to adopt the report lock, stock and barrel and save $100 million. We would not have needed any new taxes, with what we could have lopped off, perhaps, here and there. But alas, when we looked into the report and studied its various phases, we found that Governor Fine in his budget had already integrated almost $8 million into his budget, and as we further studied the report, it only left about twelve and a half million dollars that could be saved this biennium if we were to adopt the report in toto.

Now it is unfortunate that the Chairman of our State Government Committee is ill. Many of the Chesterman bills are in his Committee, and we are holding them in abeyance, hoping that the gentleman will get well and come back and run his Committee. I am sure that he wants to do it, as he showed today that he has great courage and a great heart. We are not done with the Chesterman report. I am sure that before the session ends many of the recommendations will be adopted, many of them will be referred to the joint State Government Commission for further study. I say that the report is a good report. It is a fair report, but we can not, I believe, adopt all of it this session, as much of it will require further study.

I am not going to talk much longer. I just want to say to the Minority Leader, that I have thought about the very thing he mentioned, the fact of passing what tax revenue we can, pass an abbreviated budget and go home. I have given it a lot of thought. I am sure a lot of other people have given it a lot of thought. No conclusions have been reached on the matter. I agree it is something to give serious consideration to. We will probably hear more about it before very long. In the meantime, we are going to study our revenue needs, we are going to study our various tax measures, we are going to keep up our hopes for the sales tax bill, because we want to do the job which we were sent down here to do, balance the budget and go home and show the people of Pennsylvania that we all had the courage to keep up the work of putting this Commonwealth on a sound financial basis.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. COOPER asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Banking and Building and Loan Associations to meet during the session of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WORLEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I ask for this time to address the House because I feel that as a Member of this august body it is time a voice should be raised about the continuously stalemated conditions.

As an unattached member of the Republican party, elected by independent efforts and hampered for over ten years by the organization, let me call a few basic facts to your attention.

This body is an intelligent one and certainly the problems facing it can be overcome if the will and cooperative spirit prevalent in the traditions of early Pennsylvania are followed. Our early forebears spoke freely their minds as they related to their problems, but today we find such is not the case, as the leaders of the so-called organizations determined what each man's approach shall be in a given matter.

I frankly believe that it is high time that the individual Members here respond to their own minds and react to overcome the particular mess which exists here today. Would that be asking too much. I have in the past offered a state tax program which I feel will present the individuals of this Commonwealth a constructive program and ease the burden on the persons unable to be further taxed. I am not egotistical enough to believe that it is a perfect solution, but I do feel that it offers a start to a program which through discussion can be adjusted to meet the approval of the majority.

Let us face it, Members, if the powers who are feuding over the control of the Commonwealth in the coming months would spend half the effort so expended in solving the problems facing us here, our goals would be met in short order. Think, Members, and act to complete this session. Every day we allow it to remain in this "sad state" we are costing our citizens thousands of dollars and benefitting no one.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHN J. MURRAY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, as a novice here in this House of Representatives, I am mighty impressed with the words of the Majority Leader as to the availability that the Majority party will put themselves to save and to scrape.

Now I just want to mention that as of April 9, 1953, Mr. Jenkins and I introduced a bill, House Bill 1058, which after a very extensive survey and three and a half hours with Mr. Messner of the Revenue Department and with his Controller, Mr. McNally, came up with very definite and profound figures.

This has to do with license plate. I may say to the Majority Leader that after I am finished, and he knows the crux of this bill, if he is as sincere as he says he is, and for political reasons, if he will remove, or agree to remove from this bill the sponsors, Mr. Jenkins and myself, I feel that he has the authority to do so, so that we may have passage of this bill at least out of Committee for a vote.

This is our finding. In bill 1058, we ask that the license plate that was issued for 1953 be used up to and including the year 1956, which is for three years, We went a little farther and checked with the State of Indiana, the State of Connecticut and the State of Maryland, and we found that plates which are inferior to ours in Pennsylvania are lasting anywhere from three to five years. Now, first of all, we tagged the registration which we send out to municipalities all over the state. It costs $195,000 a year. That of course, Mr. Messner and Mr. McNally agreed will no longer be needed.

The postage, and this is something to pay attention to, amounts to $360,000 a year. Using prison labor, the plates cost us 11.4 cents, or a saving of $398,000 a year. If we figure it annually, or we figure it in a biennial basis as we figure our finances and the taxes in the State, I say to this Honorable House of Representatives, that we will save $1,250,000 annually, excluding the labor needed to distribute these plates each year.

Over a period of two years, a biennium, that is only $2,500,000. But, believe me when a novice like me and Mr. Jenkins, for instance, only two Members of this House find $2,500,000, I think with all the experience, with all the seniority we have here that we can effect further savings.

You may say "What is that as compared to $157 million?" Believe me, gentlemen, it reduces the deficit from $157 million to $154 some odd million, which I think is a step in the right direction.

So, all I say is if the Majority Leader is sincere, and I think he is sincere, this particular bill should be considered. And again, I say and I mean it from the very bottom of my heart, that Mr. Jenkins and myself will withdraw ourselves from the bill and let us put 50 Republicans on it. It is perfectly all right with me, so long as we save $2,500,000 in a biennium.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I just want to say briefly that I understand our present license plate is not constructed to last such a long period of time as the gentleman suggests. It might not be a bad idea to construct our license plates out of good material and use them longer. There is merit in what he said, but my remarks were confined entirely to the general fund. The license plate money and the expense of them all comes out of the motor license fund, the gasoline tax which is earmarked by the constitution, that is, that particular money can only go into the motor license fund and will not help the general fund at all. I agree with him, I am all for saving money in the motor license fund too.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise in objection to bill 692 being passed over. It has been passed over for several days, and as I understand from the Majority Leader he had no objection to the bill when I spoke with him a few days ago. I also spoke with the Chairman of the Democratic Caucus and he tells me that they have no objection. I think it could be passed very easily.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has passed the bill over, for the information of the gentleman, in deference and respect to the members of the Press who still have a job to do tonight. If the gentleman will notice, it is now a quarter to six. The gentlemen of the Press have prepared quite an elaborate affair tonight and in respect to them we are passing all bills over on Third Reading. If the gentleman would be gracious enough to allow us to do so the Chair would appreciate it.

Mr. WORLEY. Well, for the benefit of the Press and the Members I will be glad to do it, but I felt that the Members were here now and we might not have the votes tomorrow.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, Senator John H. Dent today issued the following statement from his home in Jeannette, Pennsylvania, where he is confined due to illness. He expects to be in Harrisburg next Monday for the Session.

In speaking for the Democrats' position on the tax situation, I believe that the taxpayers ought to know the exact position of the Minority Party in the Senate. We are opposed to taxation without limitation. Therefore, we cannot vote for any broad base tax unless the terms of that tax contain a definite stated ceiling. The only safeguard against a spendthrift administration, either now or in the future, would be a constitutional limitation on the amount of tax that can be charged to the people under any broad case tax plan. With the present overlapping of functions, taxing authority, spending authority, and the lack of distinguishable lines of separation between local, county and state government, it becomes imperative that a Constitution Convention be called before any long range tax program is initiated.

It would be utter folly and the poorest kind of business judgment to write tax legislation of a permanent nature with the Commonwealth in the chaotic and distressful situation it finds itself in at the moment. If this recommended action had taken place in the Duff Administration, we would not find ourselves in the catastrophic muddle that has every decent citizen worried about Pennsylvania's immediate and future financial condition. We are in accord and will support the necessary advances for education, health and welfare, and for a more efficient highway system. However, in giving this support, we must see the blueprints and plans for the necessary revenue as well as for the spending.

During this Session of the Legislature, we have time and time again requested a breakdown of departmental appropriation demands. We will repeat that request again and again and again. Pennsylvania's present needs can be financed and must be financed.

SENATE BILL No. 334 CALLED UP

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call up from the Third Reading Calendar Senate Bill No. 334, Printer's No. 51, which went over in its order temporarily, and ask that it be considered for third reading and final passage.

BILL ON THIRD READING DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 334, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," by making the Milk Control Commission a departmental administrative commission in the Department of Agriculture and prescribing its powers and duties.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I would like to make a short statement regarding this bill.

Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 334 would place the Milk Control Commission under the Department of Agriculture. This bill was sponsored by myself and Senator Dent to implement the recommendations of the Government Survey Committee.

Mr. President, this is one of the bills on which we had a hearing. At that hearing, we took testimony from various individuals, including Mr. Horst, the Secretary of Agriculture, and most of them agreed that the Milk Control Commission was doing a good job, and as far as the machinery of this commission was concerned that by placing it under the Department of Agriculture, the machinery of it could not be improved. It was thought, however, that perhaps this particular department, in serving the people, should become more self-sustaining than it is now.

Mr. President, after some conferences, Senate Bill No. 548 was drawn, and introduced by Senator Hare and Senator Madigan, which would really out-Chesterman Mr. Chesterman. By the Senate Bill No. 548, which we passed just a short time ago, that bill would increase the amount of revenue of the Commonwealth by $260,000. There is only left now a difference between what it actually takes to operate the Milk Control Commission and the amount which it is estimated they will take in, of $188,000.

Therefore, Mr. President, under the circumstances, I am going to vote "no" on Senate Bill No. 334.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, this piece of legislation is of vital importance to quite a number of my constituents in my two counties of Washington and Greene. I have checked with a number of the milk producers, both in Washington County and Greene County, and they take the position that the Milk Control Board is doing a good job for the people and for the dairymen.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am going to oppose this piece of legislation.

Mr. President, they also take the position that they feel that should it be merged with the Department of Agriculture, Miles Horst cannot even run that department alone, without controlling the Milk Control Commission. Therefore, I am going to vote against this legislation.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I had promised that I would not talk on this bill, but I am forced to talk on the bill when the Majority Leader states that the Milk Control Commission is doing a fine job. It may be doing a fine job for the farmers and the producers and the distributors, but as far as the actual users of milk are concerned, up to date all the hearings have been a farce. What they did was to go in and have a hearing and then, like giving a man a meal before they hang him, they increase the milk with an order.

Mr. President, I take issue with the Majority Leader. It would cost more than $180,000 to the State. It will cost close to a quarter of a million dollars.

Mr. President, I cannot see why today, especially after the last election when free enterprise was the main cry, we have to resort to a system that is used by the Communists in Russia. In the Department of Agriculture in Russia, they are put into what they call trusts. They fix a price for the producer, for the distributor and, also, a price to the user. This is exactly what we are doing in the Milk Control Bill. We are taking out and fixing a price which the farmers pay, which the producers pay, which the distributors pay and which the user pays for the milk. This, I believe, is all contrary to the American way of life.

Mr. President, I believe we should meet competition on a competitive basis. I am certainly surprised that the gentleman now coming over would have his name on such a bill which is out-and-out socialism. If this case is carried to an extreme, there is no reason why we should not go into the steel mill, into the glass mill, the glass industry, and also into textiles, because textiles today are in very bad shape. They are in about as bad shape today as the agriculturists were in 1933, when this bill was first passed.

Mr. President, this bill was created by the depression, because the people did not have money with which to buy milk. They tried to make up some way to assist them, by which they would protect the farmer from killing his herd and being thrown completely out of the milk business. I am afraid that every industry that is sick—and I pay particular interest to the coal industry. I think the hard coal region should come in with a bill in which they would create a coal commission to protect the coal industry. I think the textile industry, which is in bad shape, should come in with a bill. The glass industry, which is come cases their business is not so good, should come in with a bill.

Mr. President, this is the start of straight out-and-out control of markets of supplies, and I am really surprised that the Republican Party has placed their strength and their power and their votes behind such a bill, when they have practically denounced the same system during the depression when anything was done to correct some of the evils of the depression. Today, we are not in a depression; we are in high employment. If we cannot run our industries, like agriculture, in high employment. I do not know what we are going to do when we have less employment. I think that it is a bad thing. I think the public should not be taxed in this bill, which they will be.

Mr. President, I know there is no use in my saying I sincerely hope that the Republicans will go along with doing away with the Milk Control Commission, because they have already voiced their opinion on that now. However, I hate to hear the Majority Leader get up and state that this is a good bill because now it is only going to cost the pople $180,000, which is a quarter of a million dollars by actual figures. Anything which costs the people money is not a good bill.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, it only takes two Democrats to start an argument, and I guess we will have to disagree. I say that today we need the Milk Control Commission more than ever, because we are being confronted with a depression since the Republicans have taken over our National administration.

Mr. President, it seems to me that the Milk Control Commission was, in itself, a creature of the Earle Administration. I would like to inform the distinguished gentleman from Allegheny that I was born and reared on a farm, and I know very well that if we did not have some security, we would not go into the milk business. Unless our farmers have some security and are guaranteed a sufficient income, they will not go into the milk business. I can tell you that. I say also, if you carry through with your position, Senator Holland, you are opposing price supports. We must have those things in order to bring about a stable economy.

It seems to me, Mr. President, that we should vote against this legislation, not because of any political reasons, but to protect the milk industry which is of vital importance to the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, to correct the gentleman from Washington County, I think I carried more milk on my arm in a can when I was a boy, selling it at five cents a quart, than he ever carried himself.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—6

Holland,	McCreesh,	Silvert,	Stiefel,
Leader,	Ruth,

NAYS—31

Berger,	Harney,	Mahany,	Taylor,
Chapman,	Kephart,	Mallery,	Wade,

Fleming,	Lane,	Pechan,	Watkins,
Freed,	Letzler,	Propert,	Watson,
Haluska,	Madigan,	Snowden,	Wolfe,
Hare,		Stevenson,	Wood,

Less than a Constitutional majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the negative.

PRAYER

Reverend CHARLES F. TRUNK, Jr., guest Chaplain and Pastor of the Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

O God, we praise Thee for the unity of Thy Spirit as we see it throughout all of Thy creation, and we pray for singleness of heart and mind for ourselves.

Make us one in purpose though varied in opinion, so that we can unite in action for the welfare of all.

May the people of our Commonwealth help rather than harass these men and women who represent them. Let us hear Thy voice lest we listen to and become ourselves "Spokesmen for Satan."

Make us one, O God, make us one. Amen.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 664, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 13 of the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred one (P. L. 493), entitled as amended "An act providing for the examination, licensure and registration of persons, firms or corporations engaged or engaging in the business or work of plumbing or house drainage, and prescribing certain rules, regulations and requirements for the construction of plumbing, house drainage and cesspools, in cities of the second class, second class A and third class and imposing fines, penalties and forfeiture for violation thereof," by permitting the use of certain concrete pipe as sewer pipe under certain conditions.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BRETH offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 13), page 3, line 1, by striking out "concrete" and inserting in lieu thereof: "cylindrical terra-cotta.'

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, in putting an amendment like this to my bill I would say that the thing is absolutely ridiculous. While I do not know whether it is illegal or not, I guess any amendment in a befuddled law is legal, but to say that a concrete pipe has to have the same specification as a terra cotta pipe is simply something that cannot be done.

I might cite an example. In Africa for a good many years they have had an animal known as a zebra. It is something like a Missouri jackass, but it has stripes. Now, if we would require mules that are bred in Mr. Truman's state of Missouri to have stripes the same as a zebra, that is about the comparative situation which the clay type monopoly is trying to impose upon the concrete pipe industry.

It is something that you cannot debate, because it is just the same as trying to say that something made of steel must have the characteristics of wood, or any other medium that we might work in must have the characteristics of a medium entirely different. And since the amendment is simply proffered to kill the concrete pipe bill, and that is just what it would do, because we could not make concrete pipe with the same characteristics that we have in clay tile. I, therefore, ask this House to use the rule of reason and vote down this amendment.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I am very glad the gentleman used the comparison between zebras and mules, because if I wanted the zebra to do the work of a mule, I would certainly change his stripes, for that is the only way I could get him to do the work.

In this instance, this bill asks that concrete pipe do the same work as terra cotta pipe, and the bill specifies very innocently that concrete pipe shall be used, meeting the present specifications of the American Society for Testing Materials for concrete sewer pipe. All I ask of this amendment is that if a concrete pipe is to do the same work as a terra cotta pipe that it meet the specifications of the American Society for Testing Materials for terra cotta pipe.

Now, let us go into the A S T M specifications, and I think the Members of the House are very much interested, and will be glad to know just how they differ.

As the gentleman who just spoke, one of the sponsors of the bill, knows the A S T M specifications for concrete pipe boiled down to their basic fundamentals are a weight test, that this size concrete pipe used for house sewer connections will not break under the weight of three feet of dirt placed on top of it.

The A S T M specifications for terra cotta pipe say that the pipe shall not break under three feet of dirt for the weight test, but also it shall be made impervious to house sewer acid and gas. That, gentleman, is what we are concerned with when we put in house sewer connections. Once the thing is three feet underground it is too late.

It is up to the Members of this House to protect the property owner, and particularly the small property owner who is going to pay the bill eventually for any repairs. If you authorize a substitute, for Heaven's sake, let us make it equal in quality to this article which is now being used and approved. That is fair, and it is simple, and the A S T M recognizes it.

The A S T M does not specify nor approve concrete for house sewer connections. They only approve it for a certain weight of dirt on top of it. Terra cotta pipe, according to A S T M standards says it must be made impervious to house sewer acid and gas.

If the concrete pipe business cannot make a pipe that is impervious to house sewer acid—and I insist that is what is at stake here,—well then we, the representatives of the people of the state of Pennsylvania, and all the small householders who are going to have to use this material, should certainly protect them and see that the two products are as equal in quality as we can make them.

Mr. Speaker, I wish to ask the Members of this House to consider that one angle, let us get equal quality if we plan a substitute to do a job.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, there is no question about concrete pipe not being equal of terra cotta pipe. The specifications on terra cotta pipe, that portion of sewers that is made of terra cotta pipe, and the basis on which my opponents are fighting this bill refer specifically to the laterals that connect the house to the main sewer lines. There are far more sewer lines here in Pennsylvania made of concrete, the large sewer lines, than there are terra cotta. Terra cotta cannot be used in any of the digestion plants where the sewage is reduced to a liquid that can be safely put into our streams.

As to the ASTM making a specification for characteristics of the pipe as to their acid-resisting conditions, I want to quote from the Wisconsin State-wide Survey Report on the Effects of Sewage on Sewer Pipe. They say in this survey:

> No evidence was found where the characteristics and behaviors of domestic sewage has destroyed any sewer pipe. We conclude that any kind or size of sewer pipe within the well designed sewage system will withstand the action of domestic sewage.

Our opponents claim that domestic sewage is acid in its nature and will destroy anything but terra cotta pipe. They further say that terra cotta pipe is impervious to these acids.

Now, Members of the House, that is not the case. Terra cotta pipe is pervious to water for its entire thickness until it comes up against a very minute glazed surface, which is glazed by salt on the outside of the pipe. That glazed surface, I do not believe is more than one sixty-fourth of an inch on the pipe. It can readily be broken and is broken when the pipe is put in general service many, many times. It depends entirely on the thickness of the pipe to resist anything that goes through it, either by chemical action or by the flowing of water or abrasive action through the pipe. Here in Pennsylvania we have four or five installations of concrete in sewage systems, digesters and that sort of thing that have been in service over fifty years.

From my own experience in digging up terra cotta pipe on my own place I find pipe that has been down about fifty years, there is nothing left but a chalk-like substance of a pipe. It is very readily crushed if you put a load over it and the glaze has simply gone away It is there in patches on the pipe

In letting the people of Pennsylvania have an opportunity to choose what kind of pipe they want and not put them at the mercy of a monopoly, I feel that this bill is in the interest of the general public and will do a better job than the terra cotta pipe. I would, therefore, ask again the support of the Members to vote down this amendment

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, on the issue now before the House, as the gentleman from Clearfield so aptly stated, all we are asking for is equality.

In the case of terra cotta pipe, terra cotta pipe carries with it a fifty-year guarantee for the services for which it is intended. The service for which pipe is intended in the bill before the House is the carrying of sewage.

Sewage contains certain acids and emits certain gases which are destructive to the pipe structure carrying that sewage.

In the case of concrete pipe, there is no guarantee as to the time that it will hold up. In many cases it has fallen down in just a few years, and perhaps you can find some cases where it has existed for a fifty-year period, but there are no guarantees that go with it.

I would like to call the attention to the House to the fact that there may be some isolated instances where concrete pipe is used for these purposes in the state of Pennsylvania, but I do not think there are any city engineers who have to do with sewage disposal who are approving concrete pipe for the purposes for which this bill is intended.

As a matter of fact the specifications of our own Highway Department, which can be checked, the Department of Highways Specifications written in 1950, referred to in Section 7-1, Division 7, page 373, provides for underground drainage on our highway system.

> The pipe shall be first quality, perforated vitrified Clay, craddle-invert vitrified clay, porous cement concrete pipe, or perforated corrugated metal pipe, except"—and this is the important factor in this specification and is important with the argument which we have in connection with the acids— "porus cement concrete pipe and perforated corrugated metal pipe shall not be used where in the opinion of the engineer acid water will be encountered."

That is our own Pennsylvania Highway Department's specification regarding the use of certain types of pipe where acids exist.

I would like also to call your attention to the fact that on May 25th the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission will open bids on Sections 32B on the Eastern Extension of the Turnpike. This section is located in Montgomery County.

When the Pennsylvania Turnpike field engineers checked the contents of the stream on the right-of-way, it was discovered that it contained domestic sewage. In order to enclose this open stream for a distance of 328 feet, as called for in Contract No. 408, Section 32B, the Turnpike engineers have specified 328 feet of reinforced concrete pipe, vitrified clay lined.

When queried as to why the Turnpike engineers deemed it necessary to use vitrified clay lined reinforced concrete pipe instead of just plain reinforced concrete pipe, their reply was that it is necessary to line the concrete pipe to protect it from sewer acids and gases such as are prevalent where domestic sewage is encountered.

The 328 feet of reinforced concrete pipe, vitrified clay lined referred to in Pennsylvania Turnpike proposal Form for Contract No. 408 on page 11, is item No. 65bb.

I should also like to call your attention to a report in the April 3, 1952 Engineering News Record, wherein it was stated:

> Work is nearing completition on an 8-mile stretch of plastic-lined reinforced concrete sewer outfall in southern California." This is the important part, "Purpose of the lining is to protect the concrete from deterioration as a result of attack by hydrogen sulfide or other gases developed in the long relatively flat line."

All we are asking for, and all this amendment is designed to accomplish, is that where pipe is intended to be used for sewer outlets from our homes, that they all be required to meet the same standards in order to protect the home owner from having to make replacements more frequently than once in fifty years.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr Speaker, I read from a report, a technical memorandum, under date of January 1, 1953, given to the members of the American Concrete Pipe Associaton.

Hydrogen sulfide generation is related to sulfates in water supply systems.

These questions were directed to three well known sanitary engineers, one on the west coast, one in Chicago, and one on the east coast. Questions and answer they are, all in substantial agreement but stated in different language and are transmitted herewith for your information.

These engineers say that unless the sewage system is so long that the sewage flows in the pipes for a period greater than two days, the increase in sulfide content wonld appear to have little or no effect on the production of sulfides in the down-stream portions of very large sewage systems.

They have not found that there is any deterioration from sewage in concrete. The contracts on the Turnpike from Harrisburg east to the King of Prussia have all used concrete pipe without any liners of any kind, whether they be plastic liners or terra cotta liners. Every disposal basin along that line at every service station is concrete, and no liners are in it. To the best of my knowledge that type of construction was even carried to the west, from Carlisle to the original western termination. I know of no deterioration in those sewerage systems. The big systems in Philadelphia are all concrete, all of the digestive tanks, no liners in them.

Of course modern trend would attempt to consider plastic liners in any kind of pipe, so that they might cut down the erosion and eliminate any acid conditions that might possibly exist. Now that is the modern trend in design. But there is nothing modern about putting a terra cotta liner in a reinforced concrete pipe. That looks to me just like another attempt of a monopoly to get what was a good piece of construction some years ago, or a good construction medium, into modern construction. Sure, the terra cotta people do not want to lose their market, but why make people pay for something that they do not have to have.

I again submit to you that the people of Pennsylvania should have a choice and should not be bound by the terra cotta monopoly.

I again ask the Members of the House to vote down this amendment.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I think when we pass legislation that is going to become law we should consider facts and be guided accordingly. Hearsay I do not believe has any more value here than it does in a court of law. So I want to present one fact that I think is vitally important so far as this amendment is concerned.

I have here a guarantee for 50 years issued by the Clay Sewer Pipe Association of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, individually and collectively. For every installation of clay sewer pipe and fittings it has asked or required,—and the 50 years guarantee states that it is proof against impairment for service injury or failure caused by chemical decomposition or chemical disintegration resulting from transmission of or attack by sewage, drainage, industrial waste, mine waters of any nature whatsoever.

The terms of this warranty and guarantee apply whether or not the sewage, drainage, or industrial waste contain or produce free alkali or acids, excepting only hydrofluoric acid. Now the guarantee for 50 years is a fact.

I want to ask if it will be said here on the floor whether or not any guarantee will be given for house concrete pipe sewer connection.

Let us not take a chance on the small home owner. Let us have some proof, let us deal with facts. Here we guarantee him 50 years of service. What can he be guaranteed with a substitute that under this bill will not be made anywhere equal or approaching the equal of terra cotta pipe? I ask that this amendment be adopted.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to prolong to a great length the debate upon the amendment. I realize we have all gone far afield in discussing the bill and not the amendments.

However, I want to make this one pertinent observation; the very effect of the amendments offered by the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth, is to nullify the very proposal that is before us today. I am against these amendments, and would rather discuss at length on third reading the merits of the legislation that is before us. I would like to ask the Members on both sides of the House to act in fairness to the proposal that is before us. It is not one that mandates the use of one product or of another product, but one that states that there is a possibility for a person to use another product.

The amendment in itself would completely destroy the very effect of the proposal before us. That is the consideration that I think we should give to the legislation on third reading and final passage when the merits of the bill will be discussed pro and con.

I would like to ask the membership of both sides of the House to vote down this amendment.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to say this: There are concrete installations in the United States some of them 111 years old, 82 years old, 50, 25, 20, 31, 86, and 78—there all over the map. They are much older than terra cotta pipe, and as for this guarantee, we have often said that the various guarantees are simply pipe dreams, and this is one of them.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE ON HOUSE BILL 573

Mr. EWING. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 573, Printer's No. 226, entitled:

"An Act to further amend Section 201 of the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 853) entitled 'An act relating to taxation designating the subjects property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons property and subjects of taxation for county purposes and for the use of those municipal and quasi-municipal corporations which levy their taxes on county assessments and valuations amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto and repealing existing laws' by further defining real estate to be valued and assessed for taxation."

was defeated on final passage, Wednesday, May 13, 1953, be reconsidered.

Mr. GEORGE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. EWING vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. EWING. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Blair, Mr. JONES vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. GEORGE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this motion. I believe last week on Wednesday when this bill came up, one of a series of two bills the other of which is still on the calendar, we had ample discussion and debate on the bill. Several men on this side of the House participated in the debate as well as on the other side of the House. I think the bill had ample hearing and it lost in a fair fight. I ask that the Members on both sides of the House vote "no" on this motion.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were requested by Messrs. READINGER, JIM and MAXWELL.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in this particular situation I must plead surprise. I thought the matter was to be decided by a voice vote.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I feel the same way as does the Leader of the Minority. I thought this was going to be a cut and dried thing, but since there was a call for a vote, I could not go along with the vote.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE WITHDRAWN

Mr. EWING. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my motion to reconsider the vote by which House Bill 573 was defeated on final passage.

Mr. GEORGE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my second to the motion.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would ask that the sponsor of the bill explain the reason for the bill and why the two counties are exempt.

The SPEAKER. Wil the sponsor of House Bill 1206, Printer's Number 260, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HELM. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman please explain why the two counties are exempt under the bill?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, under the present law the filing fee for a jury commissioner is now $10 state-wide. In counties of the first and second class they are paid a salary of between $5,000 and $6,000 a year, whereas in counties below second class their salaries range anywhere from $750 down to about $300.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, from $750 to $300 a year?

Mr. HELM. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I understand that the salary now has been changed in some counties whereby the jury commissioner receives more than that.

Mr. HELM. More than what, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. LOVETT. More than $700.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I cannot answer that. I took the information from the Pennsylvania Manual and in most cases they are paid per diem—I think in the higher class counties.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. SARRAF. I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the amendment.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Carbon permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCOTT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, do these amendments change in any way the correction of House Bill 522 which was passed by this House in the 1951 session? That is the former Act, Mr. Speaker, that had to do with what the gentleman is trying to effect in this bill?

Mr. SCOTT. These amendments and House Bill 500 do change the act to which the gentleman is referring.

Mr. SARRAF. Do the amendments extend any privileges beyond Act 522 which was passed in the 1951 session?

Mr. SCOTT. In reply to the inquiry of the gentleman from Allegheny, I would say that they do in one particular extend the privileges, and I might add that the amendments which I have offered today meet with the approval of and make House Bill 500 acceptable to the Funeral Directors' Association.

Mr. SARRAF. Thank you very much. That is what I was particularly interested in, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCOTT. The amendments which were offered today now meet the requirements of the Funeral Directors' Association in House Bill 500.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

(During the calling of the Roll.)

Mr. ANDREWS. I would like to call the attention of the Chair to the fact that the failure to answer is probably as reprehensible as a vote "present" which the chair has said he would not entertain. If Members can be present and not vote, Members certainly can be present and vote "Present".

The SPEAKER. The Chair agrees with the gentleman. Members will have to answer to their names, either vote "Aye" or "Nay". The Clerk will call the roll.

Mr. ANDREWS. I would ask, Mr. Speaker, that the roll be called from the beginning.

The SPEAKER. There has been a request that the roll be called from the beginning. The Clerk will call the roll from the beginning.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the time has come at long last when we should make a united effort to cut the Gordian tax knot that has bound us so long. We could ask ourselves how long we should remain the prisoners of indecision and hesitation. The hesitation waltz with which we began this Session is tending to become a funeral march, just for whom I would not know.

There has been an apparent death of party responsibility, but the death of party responsibility does not relieve us from legislative responsibility. Now we just cannot continue indefinitely to function as legislative units impotent and incapable of creating a substantial tax structure with which to finance the essential activities of the Commonwealth.

We are all common devotees of freedom, but there is a freedom that can lead to anarchy, and where there is a need for collective action we cannot be guided by confusing hands and a multitude of bewildering voices. The one fact that stands out is that this month, next month, or the month thereafter we must balance the budget.

Let us not let the lobyist crew get sand in our eyes. Let us not permit the Senate to break our heart. We have reached an impasse, an impasse that we cannot continue indefinitely without contributing to the decadence of parliamentary government. The enemies of parliamentary government say that democracy is really a myth and does not function unless you have a boss, someone to lay down the law. Are we capable in the absence of a boss of functioning as a parliament? I say party responsibility is bogged down. As far as party responsibility is concerned, we see a party situation that is dominated by rebels, for better or for worse.

The time has come to face the reality of the situation. After all the Republican party is important, and there are some of us who entertain the notion that the Democratic party is important, but the essential interests of the Commonwealth are paramount. Maneuvering in the interests of my party or maneuvering in the interests of your party can be carried to a length where it is a disservice to the public interest.

In some respects we face a rebel House. The Majority Leader has been referred to as Minority Leader. If there is present in our Assembly a Majority Leader, I would like to have a few minutes conversation with him.

I said we face a House in rebellion—in rebellion against the administration; in rebellion against its party promises; in rebellion against its leadership; in rebellion as far as FEPC is concerned; in rebellion to the extent of sabotaging the constitutional convention; in rebellion as far as salvaging essential portions of the Chesterman Committee report is concerned; in rebellion against party pledges.

I tell you there is no glory for anybody in continuing the present stalemate. We have been against the sales tax and we will continue to be against the sales tax. Yet it has been suggested to me, "Oh, forget it. Get us two or three votes for a sales tax." And that in the face of the fact that the person who spoke knew what I know and what everybody else knows, that for years the Democratic party by promise has been opposed to a sales tax. And yet they would have us ignore that promise, just as promises made for and on behalf of the Republican party in its platform and by its candidates have been ignored. You cannot establish party responsibility in a situation that ignores party promises.

The stark fact that faces us, I repeat, is that we must finance the essential needs of the Commonwealth. If you have 105 votes for a tax program, trot out the program and trot out the votes. If you face a situation in which no tax program that could be devised would have 105 votes in the Republican caucus, you have to do something about it. You have got to endeavor to find a tax program that will have 105 votes in the body of this House.

From the minority point of view, we are not going to pull your chestnuts out of the fire. We are not going to come galloping to the front to salvage your tax programs, only to have some of your own members walk out. It is our business to cooperate, but it is not our business to initiate. We cannot stand here forever saying nothing in answer to concrete proposals, but we can stand here forever saying nothing to nothing. There must be something to consider. If it is a secret resolve upon the part of the majority to continue this situation until in sheer desperation this House returns to a sales tax, we once again say with knowledge of the fact that now, tomorrow, next day, the day after and next year you will have to find 105 votes for your sales tax within the membership of the Republican House caucus. There should be a way to reach a decision. First of all, there is a need for a tax package, a package that will be supported as a package. You cannot expect to pour your particular ideas into a tax package and say to us "Take it." You tried that with the sales tax. If we are to eat the pie we ought to have something to say about what goes into it, and if we have to swallow ultimately things we do not like, the Majority party either has to produce 105 votes for the things it likes or swallow some things it does not like. We are not going to do all the swallowing.

I have, Mr. Speaker, a method of procedure which I would suggest for the consideration of the leadership of this House. We have not made marked progress through party caucuses. If I were in command of a situation and the majority party had a tax package to present, this House next Monday would be convened in Committee of the Whole for the consideration of the tax package. How long would the House remain in Committee of the Whole? It would remain in Committee of the Whole until enough Members had signified their intention, their willingness to support a particular tax program.

There are now no avenues of communication between the leadership of the so-called majority and the leadership of the minority. We do not know how many rebels you have, and you do not know how many rebels we have. We do not know how many scars your leaders are compelled to suffer, and you do not know how many scars the leadership over here is compelled to suffer.

I say if a tax program were submitted to the membership of this House sitting as a Committee of the Whole, everybody would have their say: they could argue at length, but always everybody would know what was what and who was for or against particular proposals.

The Committee of the Whole is a measure when leadership fails. It is a theater in which all the cards can be laid upon the table. And we are willing to lay all the cards on the table. It is my confident belief that there are enough bills in committees dealing with taxes to form the basis of an adequate tax program.

The leadership of this House must devise some plan of resolving this situation. If you do not like the Committee of the Whole suggestion, go into your caucus and come out with 105 votes for something. But if we are voting for a tax program or the making of any commitments, we want to know what the situation is.

We cannot guarantee to deliver a delegation, the entire delegation, for any particular bill or any particular tax program. But you may have a tax program which if you support, can find on this side of the House sufficient assistance to put that program across.

I am sure that a program can be devised that I personally will support. I believe a program can be devised that I will ask the Members of this House on this side of the aisle to support. Whether I would be one vote anone, I do not know, but I believe a tax program can be devised for which I would be willing personally to cast the 105th vote if I were the only Democrat on this side of the House that voted. In a situation like this I have no way of knowing, when the case is argued and the facts presented, how the individual conscience and judgment of the Members will vote. But I say, throw the whole proposition into Committee of the Whole, have your caucuses as much as you like, but trot out the results where everybody can see who is saying what, who is doing what, and before a theater in which you must present definite proposals, definite taxes to be considered as a package.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I agree with the Minority Leader that the time has come for some very definite forward action as far as the tax program is concerned.

I have each week reviewed for the Members of the House the tax situation as it existed up to the moment. We all know that Governor Fine gave us his budget very early this Session, perhaps the earliest in the minds of anybody in this House, the budget has come down for our consideration. The minute we received that budget it was very, very evident that this Session would be a revenue-raising session. The chief job of this Session would be that of revenue-raising.

Somebody said to me "Well, what is Governor Fine's program?" As I said before, you can take the Governor's budget, and that is the program of the Session. It spells out that we must have over half a billion dollars for education, $129 million for welfare, $88 million to pay off our bonds, and so forth. We are giving so much money to our great universities and to our state teachers' colleges, and it all adds up to one billion, three hundred million dollars. That is the program of the Session

We realized early that we would have to raise anywhere from $130 to $157 million. On this side of the House we tried to do it on a partisan basis. Our caucus came forward with a broadbase tax program, and I repeat the sales tax we put forth here was the result of a spontaneous program brought out of the House Republican Caucus.

The boys wanted to do a job and put through a broad-base tax which would settle once and for all the financial difficulties of this Commonwealth. We of the leadership did a sincere job endeavoring to put over this program by Republicans, for as was repeatedly pointed out on the other side of the aisle we would not get a single Democratic vote for it.

I think when we got up to 102 votes for a broad-base tax, which was, of course, radical in the history of Pennsylvania, because we do not have a broad-base tax as such in this state, I feel that we did a good job. I think that we did a remarkable job in getting 102 votes lined up for that program.

A very small handful of Members on our side felt that because of prior commitments they could not go along with such a tax.

Now we are faced with the possibility of bringing out a group of alternative taxes. At the last Session we tried a broad-base tax in the form of a flat income tax. We courageously passed it in the House. We had, I think, one Democratic vote for it, and it died in the Senate. I think that tax would meet the same fate in the Senate again were we able to send it over to the Senate.

The flat income tax and the sales tax really are the only two broad-base taxes we have that we could put on. Therefore, we must resort to an alternative program. I want to say that we have spent many hours in the last few days trying to come up with an alternative program.

The minute you start considering an alternative program, you will find that it is punitive, that it has become discriminatory, that it hits specific things in a very hard way rather than in an even distribution as a broad-base tax will.

Be that as it may, we are working on an alternative program and we hope to have one ready to submit to our caucus and to the Democratic caucus by Monday. We do not know yet just exactly what it will be. We have considered quite a number of taxes which have been termed

"hodge-podge." They must of necessity be within the framework of our present taxes with some addition.

It is pretty easy to guess what they will have to be, and I am going to ask everybody in this House, when a program is finally evolved, to give us your support.

The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, has, week after week, in his various messages to this House, held out the olive branch to us saying that he would give us votes for the right program he feels the Democratic party could buy. I have appreciated the gentleman's remarks week after week, but we have wanted to do it on the Republican side because it is our duty. We are the majority party; it is our duty to come forward with a program.

As to going into a Committee of the Whole to consider an alternative program, of course it is something new, but I do not think that we should turn our backs on new innovations. Yet I feel I have a duty to the House Republican caucus that before we would agree to any such plan, it would have to be submitted to our caucus.

I believe we would probably prefer to submit an alternative program with various taxes in it to our caucus and submit it to the Democratic caucus. We would see what our caucus comes up with, we would see what the Democratic caucus comes up with and chances are we may be on a middle ground where we can agree on a program and ajourn this Session at an early date.

Personally, to repeat what I said last week, I have been hoping to end this Session early. It looks now that the 12th of June is the earliest possible date that we could adjourn sine die, even if we passed a revenue program next week and sent it to the Senate.

The time has come, of course, when we must get down to business and put through a tax program. The reason so many measures are stalled in this House is that they cost money, and the Members on our side feel that they do not want to vote for anything that is going to cost money until we have first raised the revenue.

All over Pennsylvania the eyes of the people are on this Legislature. The school boards and the various hospitals and our state educational institutions are marking time. They are wondering what their budget is going to be. They want us to provide them with the money we have promised in the Governor's budget to give to them.

Next week we hope to have a very historic week. We hope to really get down to business. We hope to agree on a revenue program so that we can have an early termination of this Session so that we can send you folks back home proud of the job you have done. We hope to balance the Governor's budget and make the cuts that have been previously outlined here, some of which have a great deal of merit in them. We will bring them to the floor for debate.

Next week we hope to have an alternative program ready to submit to both caucuses for their earnest consideration and approval.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I hope the Majority Leader understands that in the consideration of the tax program I am not going to ask the Democratic caucus to raise 10 or 20 or 30 or 40 votes just so 10 or 20 or 30 or 40 votes on the other side may take a powder and run out on the program.

I can ask the Democratic causus for a package that I deem is acceptible to help you over the hump, but I am not going to ask the Democratic caucus to carry it clear across the line from start to finish.

We are in trouble, and because we have the interests of the Commonwealth at heart, I'll do the best I can in the caucus, but we are not shouldering your load. If you do not like the Committee of the Whole idea, the best alternative to be sure that you get the program you want is to come out of your coucus with 105 votes.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. HOCKER and KENT offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 21, 1953.

The wont of man to name each period or era has caused the atomic age we live in to be designated many things; but to one of us, it became, recently and irrevocably, the age of antiquity. An energetic and tireless young member of this House, on May 6, 1953, became a feeble and senile ancient, who desperately needs the care we intend to give him.

Our Chevrolet huckster from Susquehanna, the venerable Harold G. Wescott, on that day became the grandfather of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Major. The experience of the occasion is more terrible than the fact of it, for he never faced the ordeal before. But he bore it bravely, and with a soundness of purpose never associated with a trial of this kind.

Those who contend that his gift of a Chevrolet Bel-Aire hardtop convertible to his granddaughter is impractical, do not know that he will introduce and see into law, an act lowering to seven months the age requirement for a driver's license. The age decided upon will permit her to drive her 1953 model in 1953.

In 1954 she will receive a new one, and on her first birthday she will be presented with its perfect accessory —a seven room ranch style trailer, complete with two bath rooms, swimming pool, tennis court and back-up lights.

The former Margaret Lang Pritchard, who married the object of our affections, has been patient through it all, and we are informed, is at least in some small way partly responsible for the happy event of May sixth; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives congratulate Susan on her wise selection of grandparents and admonish her to be forever grateful for the good judgment each displayed in marrying the other: and be it further

Resolved, That each individual member of this House reaffirm his Boy Scout pledge and promise faithfully to assist Harold G. Wescott across the street, whenever that dangerous endeavor, (considering his status) confronts him: and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to the parents of the young lady at Seaford, Delaware and to the grandparents at Susquehanna, Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman and aged grandfather present himself to the rostrum with the help of the gentlemen from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker and the Majority Whip, Mr. Kent.

The Chair is always happy to help someone in his dotage in his old age. Realizing from the resolution the decrepitude and the recklessness which this gentleman is now in position to be placed in, because of being a grandfather, and bearing his burden seriously on his shoulders, the Chair will present this gift (a cane) to the new grandfather.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Susquehanna, Mr. Westcott, and hopes his voice does not quiver too much.

Mr. WESCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I do not know about now, but this cane might help later. I hope I do not need it right away.

I apreciate this resolution, and my grandchild is wonderful.

I thank you all.

RESOLUTION

Mr. TOLL offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

There will be a Public Hearing before the Committee on Mines and Mining on House Bill No. 1240, on Tuesday, May 26th, at 10:00 a. m. DST., in the Republican New Caucus Room.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. FARABAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, May 25, 1953 at 3:30 p. m. EST.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1953. 140th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 33. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MAY 25, 1953. No. 43.

SENATE

MONDAY, May 25, 1953.

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, the gentleman from Berks, Mr. RUTH, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, as we have gathered here for another week's work, and we have come through a week-end that was full of opportunities to show our love and our friendship to our fellow men, help us that we may continue that this week and work together in friendship and in love to help all those who are in need of our help. Let us each day feel like the poet did when he said:

"Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
"Where the race of men go by;
"The men who are good and the men who are bad,
"As good and as bad as I;
"I would not sit in the scorner's seat,
"Nor hurl the cynic's ban;
"Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
"And be a friend to man."

We ask it in Jesus' Name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. HARE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. HARE asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. STEVENSON, for today's Session only, because of important personal business.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. PECHAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, at the present time we have a law which provides for the periodical examination of school children and preschool children, at a cost of a little more than $9,000,000 to the Commonwealth. In a great many school districts, we are having difficulty in procuring dentists and physicians who will take this job at $1.50 for a medical examination, and seventy-five cents, I think, for a dental examination, plus clerical fees.

Mr. President, I am not introducing this bill for the sake of saving the Commonwealth $9,000,000. I am looking a little bit farther ahead and seeing how often the examination does not amount to any thing, because at the present time the law required that the physician examine four children per hour. In a lot of school districts, where they have difficulty in getting this physician to do this work, he will very often examine as many as twenty-eight to thirty pupils an hour. I do not think it is fair to that parent; I do not think it is fair to the school district; I do not think it is fair to the child.

Mr. President, this proposal that I have will make sure that the child, before entering the first grade, besides producing a vaccination certificate, will also produce a certificate that he has been examined by his local physician or dentist, in the first grade, in the fifth grade and in the ninth grade.

Mr. President, this bill provides that the individual pay for his own examination. We do know that there are many families who cannot afford to pay for it, so I think that the school district's doctor can do it in that case. Every school district does have their own physician to do this examination.

Mr. President, another one of the bad features of the school examinations today is the fact that in a great many of the school districts, especially out in the country schools, they do not have the lighting facilities to examine the pupils, and I feel that this bill is not only good for the child, but it is good for the health program as we now have it in Pennsylvania, at a great saving to the Commonwealth.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the Delaware River Bridge Commission, which spans the Delaware from Philadelphia into Camden, has proposed an increase in the rate from twenty cents a trip to twenty-five cents. The additional revenues they claim they need in order to construct a proposed bridge which will be built further up the Delaware River, to carry the additional traffic.

Mr. President, I do not believe, and I believe most of the people in Philadelphia feel the same way, that it is absolutely necessary that they incease this rate. The volume of traffic going across this bridge is now greater than ever in its history. Each week-end finds that the volume of traffic is steadily increasing.

Mr. President, the Delaware River Bridge Commission has been operating for some time in a little world of their own. They account to no one, and no one can seem able to call them to task or find out exactly what is going on.

Mr. President, the bridge, I believe, when it was originally constructed, one of the statements made at the time was that there would be a time in the very very near future when there would be no toll charge at all, as the bridge would have paid for itself. That bridge has gone from a five or six lane highway to an eight lane highway, and they are still unable to carry the heavy traffic which takes place there every day and especially on week-ends.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am introducing a bill to limit the amount of toll that they may charge and maintain at the present level, until such time as the Commission feels that they can show a need for a greater revenue.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. WEINER and CAMIEL read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 623, entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the twelfth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 575) entitled "An act providing for joint action by Pennsylvania and New Jersey in the development of the ports on the lower Delaware River, and the improvement of the facilities for transportation across the river; authorizing the Governor, for these purposes to enter into an agreement with New Jersey; creating The Delaware River Joint Commission and specifying the powers and duties thereof, including the power to finance projects by the issuance of revenue bonds; transferring to the new commission all the powers of the Delaware River Bridge Joint Commission; and making an appropriation," authorizing the Governor, on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to enter into a supplemental compact or agreement with the State of New Jersey under which tolls on passenger cars would not exceed twenty cents each

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

BILL ON THIRD READING, DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 517, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and the act, approved the twenty-seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1046) entitled "An act providing for equaliation of assessed valuations of real property throughout the Commonwealth for use in determining the amount and allocation of Commonwealth subsidies to school districts; creating a State Tax Equzaliation Board; and prescribing its powers and duties; imposing duties on certain local officers, agents, boards, commissions and departments; and making an appropriation," by abolishing the State Tax Equalization Board; transferring the powers and duties thereof to the Department of Internal Affairs; and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I surmise that this bill has been carried on the calendar for some time now with the thought in mind, I imagine, that the Majority would secure a sufficient number of votes to rip John O'Neil out of office.

It is my understanding, Mr. President, that this gentleman was assigned his job by the Chief Executive of this Commonwealth. He did the job to the best of his ability. He has operated the Tax Equalization Board for a number of years very economically. As a matter of fact, Mr. President, his budget has not been increased since 1947.

Mr. President, it seems to me that the Tax Equalization Board should be a separate part of our government and should not be transferred to the Secretary of Internal Affairs. I feel also, Mr. President, if the Secretary of Internal Affairs can do a job that has cost the Commonwealth $500,000 a year for a long, long time, if he can do this job for $200,000, we should review his budget and cut his budget.

Mr. President, I ask my colleagues on both sides of the Senate to vote "no" on this bill because it is not a money saver.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, first I want to say that this bill does not make any effort to spank Mr. O'Neil for anything that he did in connection with the Chesterman Committee Report.

Secondly, Mr. President, we feel that this bill will save the Commonwealth over $200,000, somewhere between $200,000 and $300,000, by doing away with a certain amount of duplication that would now exist in connection with these two departments.

Mr. President, when this department was set up originally, its chief duty was to find out the proper reimbursement fraction for school districts. This was done by obtaining data from the various counties relative to the amount of the actual valuation of property in those counties, and compare them with the assessed valuation. After that job was done throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, it seems to me that the work of this department certainly should now be cut down, because all they have to do now is to keep those figures current. The only job that this particular department has to do is give us that reimbursement fraction.

Mr. President, they have a number of International Business Machines over there, upon which we have to pay rent. There is an International Business Machine in the Department of Internal Affairs which could be used for this purpose. We could do away, at least, with the rental of those machines. The same is true with certain field workers in the field, which this department has. The Department of Internal Affairs has field workers and they can do this job. Also, the Department of Internal Affairs has offices in the Commonwealth, and so we would no longer be in need of the offices that the Tax Equalization Board has. We can cut out a lot of duplication and not hurt anybody. At the same time, we can save over $200,000 to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, the Democrats have talked a long while about the fact that we should be saving money from this budget. When we start out to do a job and try to save some money on the budget, then they arch their backs a little bit and say that they are not going to go along with it.

Mr. President, I can appreciate Senator's Lane's position. Mr. O'Neil comes from his county and probably, as a fellow "countian," he would like to keep him in office. I hope that Mr. O'Neil will obtain other employment and, if this bill goes through and becomes law, that he will not have to be deprived of grocery money.

Really, Mr. President, I believe from the information that I have received, with three men on this board, drawing upwards of sixty some thousand dollars a biennium—about $68,000, I am informed—that amount of money can very well be saved without hurting anybody except those particular people who are holding the jobs, and I feel sure that they are high enough caliber men that they can get employment some place else.

Mr. President, if the Senators here really want to effect some saving in the budget, I feel sure that they will go along and vote for this bill.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, it is rather unusual, I think, for the Majority Party to think about duplication of effort, when this office has been in existence since 1947. It seems to me that their thinking just about six years too late, if they are talking about duplication.

Let me say also, Mr. President, for the benefit of the Majority Leader, the Tax Equalization Board's work is not finished, not by any sense of the word. We passed legislation here in 1949 making it mandatory upon all counties, from the third to the eighth class, to re-appraise every piece of property in their counties. They are given five years in which to do that, Mr. President, and after that is finished the Tax Equalization Board is going to have a terrific job. They are having it right now, because certain counties have finished this work. In other words, they are placing a valuation on the actual value of the property and the county commissioners, by resolution, will set a percentage of the actual value as to the assessed valuation of the property.

Mr. President, Mr. O'Neil's department has a tremendous job to do. I say to you, Mr. President, that if the Secretary of Internal Affairs has all those business machines idle, they must have been idle for a long, long time, because they have been idle since 1947, as this department has been functioning since that time.

It seems to me, Mr. President, that we of the Democratic Party cannot be accused of being extravagant. I say to you that we are economy minded, but we feel it should be sensible economy. There is no use to tear down in the structure of government something which was deemed essential by the Members of the House and Senate in 1947. There is no use tearing down in order to get back at somebody.

Mr. President, I say that I am speaking here as a Democrat in defense of a Republican when I say to you that O'Neil is the victim here today. I ask my friends to not let malice take the better part of their judgment, and to vote "no" on this legislation because it is a ripper.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want it clearly understood that this is caucus action. If you will notice, I am a co-sponsor of this bill, by request. I have now been requested to vote against it.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I certainly want to take this opportunity of congratulating the Democrats upon the way in which they can keep the Members of their Caucus in line by taking caucus action.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

M. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, over the years since the Turnpike has been opened, we have heard and read a great deal about the many tragedies that have occurred upon that highway. I must confess that I have been riding it since the first week that it was officially opened. Up until this morning, I have been fortunate, indeed, that I have never had to witness any of these tragedies.

Mr. President, this morning, when I first got on the Turnpike, it must have been about six o'clock. I was not on the Turnpike very long when a light-colored Dodge, with an Ohio license plate on it, driven by an elderly lady, drove past me at a pretty fast rate of speed. I commented to my companion, who was Representative Petrosky, that the lady was taking chances. He made the usual remark about Ohio drivers, and we forgot the insident. About twenty minutes or so later when we passed this same car, it was sitting along the side of the road. We naturally passed a remark about it, and commented that perhaps the lady had beome tired and was resting a bit. About a half hour later, I was traveling at a speed in excess of the speed limit. and this car passed me again.

I am sorry to say, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, that about fifteen minutes later as I turned a curve, the car was splattered all over the road. We were the first on the scene; it had happened about two minutes before because the dust had not settled yet, and the driver was out in the middle of the opposite lane of traffic. She was bleeding and her clothes were all torn; her shoes were about fifteen feet away frol her; and her car was completely demolished.

Mr. President, for many years we have heard a great deal of talk about the speed, not only on the Turnpike but on all of our public highways. It reminds us of the remark of Mark Twain when he said that "Weather was something that everyone talked about, but no one did anything about.

Mr. President, I, like the rest of the normal persons in Pennsylvania, like to drive a fast car, a big, powerful automobile. However, sooner or later we must come to the realization that we cannot keep it up. I am convinced that the automobile manufacturers of America have exseeded the needs of the traveling public in providing power plants for the vehicles that we use in modern transportation.

I am convinced, Mr. President, that we cannot stop speeding by putting up signs or by putting patrols on the highways. We must attack the problem at the source. Today, more than ever in my life, I believe that we must pass legislation in the General Assembly of Pennsylvania to prohibit the sale of automobiles in this Commonwealth with a rate of horsepower that will allow them to exceed the speed limit, beyond a reasonable percentage over and above the legal speed limit of the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, I want to say, in all seriousness, that most of the citizens try to obey the law. I know that I try to obey the law. However, when you get an automobile under you that has 205 horsepower, with an unlimited capacity for speed, there is not anything any normal person can do except exceed the speed limit. He gets a broad highway in front of him, or a slower moving vehicle, and his first impulse is to pull away from that vehicle and pass it, or to open it up and let it roll along the highway.

Mr. President, none of us fully realize how dangerous a projectile we are driving at that excessive speed; how for one-tenth of a second your eyes can wander away from the pathway in front of you and to the side of the road on either side, your hands become limber on the wheel, your wheels go out of control and your car has turned over. Not only do you endanger yourself, but you may cost the lives of innocent persons.

Mr. President, this woman hit the outside guard rail on the lane of traffic that she was using. She flashed across the medial strip on the highway, and turned over at least two or possibly three times. There was not an inch of glass left in that car. When we arrived on the scene, her pocketbook was about twenty feet away from the car. A few dollar bills, some stamps and some little note paper were scattered all over the place. As I said, her shoes were at least fifteen feet from her body. The key in her automobile was still turned on, and gasoline was leaking all over the highway. If there had been another car coming in the opposite direction, by the grace of God, at that moment it would have been at the point of contact, and the tragedy would have been much worse and innocent persons would have been killed.

Mr. President, I may become a laughingstock to those who think that we ought to have unlimited power in the automobiles of today. However, I intend to introduce into this Senate tomorrow, if the bill is prepared in time, a bill prohibiting the sale of automobiles in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that have a rate of horsepower that will allow them to travel at a greater speed than ten miles per hour more than the speed limit allowed by law. If they have a horsepower greater than that amount, then they shall have upon them a mechanical device or governor which will control the speed to that limit. If we cannot trust ourselves to keep within the controls of decent driving and safe driving, then legislation will have to do it for us

Mr. President, we are a group of men charged with the responsibility of the health and welfare of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and, yet, we allow every day in this Commonwealth, and perhaps in the entire Nation, more children and more men and women to be killed and maimed and made helpless for life than could ever be killed or maimed by the explosion of an atomic bomb. I want to say that I, for one, believe the time has come when legislative action will have to do for the automobile makers what they have not had sense enough to do for themselves.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I am wondering now, after Senator Dent witnessed that calamity this morning and now feels that he should put a bill in which will hold down the speed of vehicles, whether he will promise not to exceed the speed limit until his bill becomes enacted into law.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I can answer that. I never knowingly exceed the speed limit.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like, at this juncture, to remind the two distinguished Senators of the bill that was passed some years ago in the House, prohibiting motor trucks from using the highways of the Commonwealth between sundown an Saturday and sunrise on Monday.

After introducing this bill over a period of Sessions, finally it came out in amended form and the sponsor neglected to examine the bill as to its content after it was amended. The bill was passed, and signed by the Governor and the first Sunday after the effective date, the sponsor rushed into the Bethlehem Barracks, pleading for assistance from the State Police to enforce the law, and he learned for the first time that the bill did prohibit trucks from using the highway between sundown on Saturday and sunrise on Monday, except those that were empty or loaded.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I can vouch for the veracity of that story because I amended the bill.

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, we are waiting for a bill to come over from the House relative to a stopgap appropriation. It is necessary that we consider this bill today or it will be necessary that we remain in Session on Thursday.

Therefore, Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for fifteen minutes, awaiting a communication from the House.

Mr. HARE. I second the motion, Mr. President.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The proviso of Section 3 of the Act approved the fourteenth day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two (1951-1952 P. L. 1898) entitled "An Act to provide for the better protection of life and health of the citizens of this Commonwealth by requiring and regulating the examination licensure and registration of persons and registration of corporations engaging in the care preparation and disposition of the bodies of deceased persons and providing penalties providing for a State Board of Funeral Directors in the Department of Health and repealing other laws" is hereby amended to read as follows

* * * * *

Providing that any [Any] person having the qualifications prescribed by subsection (b) of this section registered as a student apprentice under the provisions of existing law or enrolled as a student in a school of embalming prior to the [effective date of this act] first day of April one thousand nine hundred fifty-three or the effective date of this amendment whichever is later and who has continuously thereafter served as a student apprentice or continued his studies in a school of embalming or either shall be entitled to take the examination for license to practice as a funeral director after he has had practical experience in the business or profession of funeral directing for two years continuously as a resident trainee and has completely embalmed at least twenty-five (25) bodies

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Carbon permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCOTT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman please explain this bill? It has been amended, is that right?

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, it has.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, with the amendments what is the purpose of the bill at the present time and what does it do?

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman I would point out to him that there are two purposes to House Bill 500 at the present time.

The first purpose is to take care of an inequity which occurred when the 1951 session of the Legislature passed what was known as the "Funeral Directors Law." When the Funeral Directors Law was enacted it made stricter the educational requirements concerning students who wanted to go to funeral directing schools. It made the educational requirements stricter in this regard; it says that prior to September 1, 1953 anyone who registered would be required to have embalming school of 900 to 2400 hours and two years as a resident trainee. Then it said that between September 1, 1953 and August 31, 1955, in addition to those requirements a student would also have to have one year of college or university. After August 31, 1955 there would have to be two years of college or university, in addition to the embalming school and six months as a resident trainee.

What happened, Mr. Speaker, when this bill was passed in the dying days of the 1951 session, it did not become law—it did not become law by the Governor's signature until January 14, 1952. After the bill was enacted into law, it was the feeling of everyone concerned, including the Funeral Directors Board that what was meant by the date that these educational qualifications were required was the date of entrance into the embalming school or the date of registration as an apprentice.

In the Fall of 1952 the Board of Funeral Directors of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania changed that interpretation and said no, the educational qualifications were required as of the date that the young man would take the examination. There was a group of men, 73 to be exact, who between January 14th, 1952 and the Fall of 1952 who at the time the Board made this interpretation went to embalming schools and they were under the impression that when they graduated from embalming school they would be allowed to take the examination. Then the Board came along and said that at the date of application, it meant that those men after they graduated from embalming school would have to go back and take a year of college. One of the reasons for this bill is to do away with the inequity.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman, is this bill endorsed by the Funeral Directors Association with these amendments?

Mr. SCOTT. With the permission of the Speaker I would like to read into the record a telegram I received, which will be a direct answer to the question put by the gentleman.

Honorable William Z. Scott, House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. The Legislative Committee of the Pennsylvania Funeral Directors Association favors House Bill No. 500, as amended.

(S) Secretary of the Association.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

PRESENTATION OF GIFT

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, we see on the floor of this House performing a very noble service day after day, a group of very handsome young men. They have a very pleasant duty to perform today, and I am going to introduce one of their number and ask him to take the microphone and say a few words. I refer to one of our page boys, Jimmy Straining.

The Speaker. Without objection the Chair will recognize Page Jim Straining. The Chair hears no objection.

Mr. STRAINING. Will the Chief Page, Benny Foltz, come here, pease?

The SPEAKER. Will the Chief Page present himself at the microphone?

Mr. STRAINING. Benny, on behalf of the Page boys of 1953, we would like to present you with this wrist watch as a small token of our appreciation.

The SPEAKER. The Chair without objection at this time would ask that the Chief Page present himself at the microphone and give us a nice long speech. The Chair hears no objection.

Mr. FOLTZ. Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, and my associates in work, I do not know what to say. It is the first time I ever received anything like this as long as I have been here, and I am just stumped.

I will say, though, I appreciate it very much, and every time I wear it and look at it, I will think of my boys. Thank you.

MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair is very happy to welcome back to the Hall of the House one of our Members of long standing who has been very ill, the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Kline.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. The Chair would remind the Members that we have been passing over controversial bills. If it meets with the approval of the Majority Leader and the Minority Leader, the Chair would suggest that tomorrow and through this week the controversial bills be brought up on the calendar.

Does the Minority Leader desire to be recognized?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, there is an old quotation from some poem or other about "She starts, she reels, she seems to feel the thrill of life along her keel." And so I am glad to get an intimation that this House has about made up its mind to rescue itself from its long slumber and proceed with the business.

I see no particular gain in dodging controversial bills because they are controversial. Either bring them up and pass them or bring them up and vote them down.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has been informed that there have not been quorums at Committee meetings. It is the responsibility of Members to attend Committee meetings.

SENATE

TUESDAY, May 26, 1953.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we come to Thee on this new legislative day and we know that we have so many problems which cannot be solved by intuition. Even knowledge and experience will not help us altogether. However, we do know that if we have a large measure of Thy spirit and humility and a sense of service, we can solve these problems.

We pray for that measure of spirit from Thee so that we may build for tomorrow those things which Thou hast given into our care today, that tomorrow our State may continue to be great and generous, kind and openhearted, and yet feeling that there is so much that the world expects from us. We are weak in ourselves, but we are just as strong as Thou art if Thou wilt give use that spirit. We pray for it in the Master's Name, Amen.

Will Senator Watkins' guests please rise in place and take a bow?

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, at various times throughout the Session we hear criticism, and at infrequent times we hear commendation of our various and sundry State institutions.

Mr. President, in the report of the committee appointed recently by the Governor to investigate the penal correctional system of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, it must have been the source of a great deal of satisfaction to Superintendent Arthur Prasse and the Board of Trustees to have this comment made regarding White Hill Institution, known as the Pennsylvania Industrial School at White Hill.

"As stated in paragraph 3 of Article II, we consider that the Pennsylvania Industrial School at White Hill is n excellent institution. It has a capacity of 1404 and perates at about 90 per cent of capacity. It is located in umberland County only a few miles from Harrisburg nd has an adjacent farm which supplements the in-ustrial aspects of the school."

My purpose today, Mr. President and Members of he Senate, is to extend a warm invitation to each and very one of you, my colleagues, and, in addition, all he guests we have here today, which includes the guests f Senator Watkins, to attend a program given by the ennsylvania Industrial School Band and the Pennsyl-ania Industrial School Glee Club at the Forum, here n Harrisburg, tonight. I know that you Members who ravel long distances will enjoy a program of this kind. know that if you will take time out of your busy chedules to attend this affair tonight, which, incidentally, s without charge, you will be amply repaid for your ime.

Mr. President, the program is under the direction of I. Lindley Seltzer, Director of the Band, and Mrs. Dale, who directs the Glee Club.

Again, I repeat, Mr. President, that I wish to extend a varm invitation to each and every one of my colleagues, n addition to all the guests who are here with us today n the Senate, to attend this affair.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, we have on the Post-oned Calendar Senate Bill No. 280, relative to increasing he speed limit in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania rom fifty to sixty miles per hour.

Mr. President, just a moment ago, my good friend and olleague from Westmoreland County introduced a bill o set a certain regulation upon motor vehicles. While we may disagree, I assure you we are not disagreeable. find no fault with what he has in mind. However, I do elieve sincerely, Mr. President, that the day has arrived when we must give serious thought to meet the modern rend in order to travel over the highways which are uilt accordingly. I am sure that none of us can sincerely tate that we do not drive our motor vehicles over fifty niles an hour. Today, that speed jams up traffic.

Mr. President, it is true, on some highways forty miles n hour may be too fast; thirty miles an hour may be too ast. However, on our three lane and four lane highways, with the type of automobiles that we have today, the ype of highway construction we have, I am sure that we all believe that we can increase our limits without injury to anyone. It is not how fast we drive; it is how we drive. As someone once said, "It is not how long we live; it is how we live."

Mr. President, I certainly think the day has arrived when we should give serious thought to amending the Vehicle Code and pass this measure, in order to make it possible to move on with the trend of our Country. This bill has been on the Postponed Calendar for quite some time. Some of my colleagues have stated, in private, that they think the bill should be amended to read fifty-five miles an hour. Well, I will not argue about that. I see no harm in posting our highways, and showing the type of speed that can be expected. They have that in other States. Secondary highways are marked "30 Miles an Hour." Surely, with the highway system that we have, we must admit that all of us exceed our present speed limit, and rightfully so.

Mr. President, I hope that the Committee on Highways will give serious thought to having this bill either amended or moved up for final action some time next week.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I understand, after holding conversation with my colleague, that what he has in mind is giving the Highway Department the right to establish greater speed limits on those roads that are able to bear the heavier traffic and speedier traffic.

Mr. President, the bill which I introduced, along with Senator Pechan, has nothing to do with that whatsoever. All that my bill does is to establish a rated speed of a vehicle at ten miles per hour over any legal speed limit set by our Department of Highways and the General Assembly.

Mr. President, after my sad experience and tragic experience of yesterday, however, I have developed a new idea. For many years, as a youngster driving a vehicle, I had the ambition to be the fastest driver on the road. Now, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I no longer want to be the fastest; I want to be the oldest.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have asked permission to address the House prior to the caucus which the majority Members will hold and prior to the caucus which the minority Members will hold.

My mission is to endeavor to assist in the recreation of a united Republican party with which it is possible to confer, and which has responsible leaders who can speak for the party with whom we can confer.

We will shortly have, I hope, a tax program on our third reading calendar. We do not propose to bleed, die and suffer in connection with that program without some assurance that if that program were enacted we would not some day read in the paper that His Excellency, the Governor, has felt compelled to veto a particular bill which passed the House with the aid of some wicked Democrats.

We have a right to know whether the majority party in presenting a program is presenting a program which will meet with the approval of His Excellency, the Governor.

Our General Assembly is composed of two chambers. I hear Senators say I will not support the truck that the House is proposing to send over. I will never vote for this or that. And we are not going to bleed, die and suffer here perhaps for weeks only to have our efforts rejected by the Senate.

If the Republican party is to deal with the minority, it must deal with responsible spokesmen, spokesmen who represent a definite constituency in the Senate and who are speaking with the approval of His Excellency, the Governor.

I want to congratulate the leadership of the majority. It has endeavored to present a tax program to this House, a tax program which the House in its considered judgment, rightly or wrongly, rejected. That program had no compulsion back of it so far as the Executive is concerned. That program had no compulsion back of it as far as responsible leaders in the Senate were concerned. The leadership of this House struggled alone, orphans. Unfortunately, in my mind they have struggled in behalf of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association who, on the showdown, could not deliver, but that is neither here nor there.

I have heard Members of the Senate, and I have heard Members of the House say, if we are going to dilly-dally, why, we are going home. I want to express my considered judgment that as we face the critical problems of this Session, the House in my opinion, in its considered judgment will send for the Members of this House who voluntarily and as a matter of purpose absent themselves from this Session while we are trying to grapple with the problems that face us.

I am not going to stay here as the alleged leader of a corporal's guard, and the Majority Leader is very foolish if he stays on the job as the alleged leader of a corporal's guard.

I will join with him, and I hope he joins with me in seeing when we face our critical problems that we have a responsible membership in their seats.

And so we are saying to the majority that we cannot continue to confer with a Majority Leader who does not represent His Excellency, the Governor. We cannot continue to confer with a Majority Leader who does not have his grass roots in the Senate, and who can say after he has struggled to put a program across whether that program will survive.

I am not going to go out on a limb as an individual trying to get a few votes—that is what I will do for measures upon which the majority party is agreed, if at all within reason—do that and have the Governor strike down the bill, and have the Senate strike down the bill. We have a right, I repeat, to confer with the representatives of a reunited Republican party that knows what it wants to do.

I know that the majority party is being bedeviled by powerful interests. Business is on the warpath: "You must not tax business. You must not tax profits." Other interests are out saying, "The tax program is all right if it does not tax us."

We face a situation dominated not by interests that want to cooperate with the problems we face, but interests that are trying to make certain that the expenses necessary for our government are shifted to other shoulders.

Incidentally I want to say that I have never sympathized with a crusade against taxes as taxes. We have had a crusade in this country design to stamp taxes as something evil. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has not been spending too much money. Taxes mean hospitals, they mean schools, they mean mental institutions. The tax dollar is a blessed dollar used wisely.

People that would cut a budget with a chisel, eliminating necessary and essential services in the interest of economy and to the affront of the instincts of humanity do not deserve the consideration of this House.

So I hope that the Majority leadership will persevere in its efforts and get a tax package on the third reading calendar. Then when there is someone authorized to speak for a reunited functioning Republican party I will try and find someone authorized to speak to him or to them.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, it is true that this has been a prolonged Session. It has turned out to be a revenue-raising session. The watchword has been revenue, revenue, revenue. Balance this budget.

I agree with the Minority Leader. We on this side of the House did our best to put across a broad-base tax which would settle once and for all our financial difficulties and give the average guy an opportunity to step in line and help to pay for the services which we are rendering to the people of Pennsylvania.

As I said before, the proposition failed, and it was not that we of the leadership and everybody on this side of the House did not do their very best to try to put over this broadbase tax. It would have been something new in Pennsylvania, because it has been the policy in Pennsylvania, no matter which party was in power, to engage in and put on the usual patch-work type of taxes. It is not a sound program.

The tax package that we have, the taxing that we do in Pennsylvania is nearly all pegged to profit and prosperity which is a dangerous thing for a great state like Pennsylvania that faces so many needs and so many problems and has asumed so many financial obligations, the least of which is not the $500 million bonus issue that the people of Pennsylvania voted at the election two years ago.

I want to say that I have appreciated the loyalty of the membership on this side of the House. They have been patient; they have stood by the leadership so far through thick and thin.

We have finally had to come up with an alternative tax program. It is on our calendar. Today we are going to ask that one particular bill be approved and sent to the Senate so that it can be enacted into law before it expires on the 31st of May. That is the Real Estate Transfer Tax. That has proven to be an excelent money-raiser and a tax with which there is not too much trouble right now. There is not too much antagonism against that particular tax in Pennsylvania.

We are going to endeavor to offer amendments to some of the other tax measures that are on the calendar. We hope to have it on third reading tomorrow.

The Minority Leader says "I want assurance that the Senate will buy the package and that his Excellency, the Governor, will sign it." He is thinking of the same proposition that we of the majority always face in respect to taxes. That is the first question which is always raised in our caucus, will the Senate go along and will the Governor sign the bill?

Well, on the sales tax I want to say that we had what we thought was a firm assurance from the Senate that the one percent sales tax would pass the Senate. While we did not have a strong commitment from the Governor, as far as the sales tax was concerned, we felt that if we put a broad base tax on his desk which he has repeatedly said we must have in Pennsylvania, he would have signed that particular broad base tax.

The request of the Minority Leader is a fair request, and I of the leadership hope tomorrow, we will have these bills on third reading, and be able to say to him, "These particular taxes will ride and will be put on the Governor's desk. He will sign them." I think it is a fair request.

As I say, it is amusing to me that finally there has been driven back home to him, the fact that we have a coordinate body on the other side that we must deal with and that we also have His Excellency, The Governor, to deal with in any program. That is our system of checks and balances in our democratic form of government, which I think is a good one, and it is one that we must work with and within its framework.

These taxes that are on the calendar are, with the exception of the unincorporated business tax, within the framework of our previous taxing efforts. We have had experience with them. Many of them are readily collectible. I say it is not a bad alternative tax program. It is not one that we can be proud of, shall I say, but it is the best that we can come up with at this time. Therefore, we are soon going to caucus, and I am going to ask the membership to stand back of us on this package. We hope the gentlemen on the other side will be able to go along, so that we can all get together and put this budget over and then say to the people of Pennsylvania "We have all stood together; we are all Pennsylvanians." It was our job, with a divided House as we have at the present time to do this job. So you will hear more from this side of the House tomorrow on this program.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address House.

Mr. Speaker, the Majority Leader and the Members of the House will please understand that I do not travel around with the votes of the Democratic House caucus in my pocket; nor can I expect, nor can he expect that in the course of a few hours we can resolve problems that have occupied the attention of the Majority leaders for weeks.

I do not believe it will be possible by tomorrow for the Majority Leader to have ascertained exactly how many votes he has for particular new taxes that may be on the calendar. The number of votes the Majority Leader has for particular taxes will naturally be a matter of concern to the members of the Minority caucus.

I am personally in agreement, and I hape the Democratic Caucus will by a very substantial majority be in agreement, that those taxes now a part of our tax structure should be reenacted, all of them. That is my personal opinion. They are integrated in our tax structure. If we do not reenact them, we must find new money in additional directions. We are having a great deal of difficulty in finding posible sources of new money without adding the additional burden of failing to continue taxes now on the statute books.

I ask the Majority Leader, as far as new taxes are concerned, to give us some chance for consultation with the members of our caucus and various persons of influence.

If the Republican caucus would give the Majority Leader power of attorney, and the Minority caucus would give the Minority Leader power of attorney, I have no doubt that instead of laboring here for months or weeks, that within a week, so far as this House is concerned, we could get somewhere.

I do not hold power of attorney as far as the minority is concerned. I frequently come before you bruised and battered and kicked around, and I have seen the signs of serious wounds upon the spirit of the Majority Leader.

I want to say to the Republican caucus, and I want to say to the Democratic caucus that if you are going to take control of the situation wholly out of the hands of your respective leadership, you will be here for months.

The caucuses must eventually recognize that we must speak through accredited spokesmen. If the Republican caucus wants to take the situation out of the hands of its leaders, and the Democratic caucus wants to take the situation wholly out of the hands of its leader, I think we will be here until the frost has withered the corn and seasoned the pumpkin.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LOVETT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I continually hear in this House about a broad base tax. We are a little late on a broad base tax, possibly a couple of years late.

I think if you go over the state of Pennsylvania, into the different municipalities and school districts, you will find that there is a broad base tax all right. Most of them have them, and those that do not have them will soon have them, because every session of the Legislature we make it possible that more of those municipalities or townships have the opportunity to enact this broad base tax that we talk about here year afer year.

Our people are paying a broad base tax. Any broad base tax you put on them now will be a double broad base tax. We dilly-dallied, sure. We have had recommendations from the Joint State Government Commission to trot out the graduated income tax amendment to the Constitution. It never gets anywhere.

I have heard speeches in this House that during this Session next week we are going to bring one out; we are going to pass it; we are going to give the people an opportunity. That time never comes.

I am interested. I want to be agreeable. I want to help.

I want to say to you that the special interests of the state of Pennsylvania are not paying their fair share. When you talk about corporation tax and other tax, the people of Pennsylvania who work for the corporations pay that tax to a certain extent.

So, let us not kid ourselves. Let us be fair and honest and frank. Bring out the graduated income tax. Show the people that you are sincere and that you want to do the right thing. Do not continually try to protect the special interests of the state of Pennsylvania that really and truly have the money to pay the tax bills.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. VAUGHAN. RESOLUTION No. 59.

In the House of Representatives, May 25, 1953.

The seizure while at work at the Hazelwood plant of Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation of former Sergeant Robert W. Toth by military police on a charge of murder was a flagrantly unconstitutional infringement of the rights of a civilian by the military authorities.

Mr. Toth was taken immediately after his arrest while at work, to the Greater Pittsburgh Airport and placed on a Korea-bound plane, without being given a chance to see his family, and as far as is known without being informed of the charges against him.

Execution of the laws, both military and civilian have, since the founding of this nation, been in conformity with long established precedents guaranteeing the right of the individual to a fair and just trial and without fear of highhanded, unfair gestapo methods employed by communist, nazi and fascist nations in suppressing the basic rights of humans caught within their greedy clutches, in their insatiable lust for supreme power over the individual, and their desire to make individuals faceless and unimportant cogs in the totalitarian police States.

The arrest of Robert W. Toth without proof of reasonable cause was an attempt to subordinate the civil population to military discipline without any need therefor, and in direct contravention of the requirements of due process of law and in violation of the long standing American tradition of subordination of the military to civilian authority.

If the gestapo methods used in the arrest of Mr. Toth are permitted to go unchallenged and without correction, this nation will have gone far on the road towards a totalitarian government dominated by a military establishment in no way restricted in its power to dominate and infringe upon the basic rights of all citizens and residents of this country; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby protests against the manner, method and procedure used by the United States Military Police in the apprehension and arrest of Robert Toth, formerly of the United States Air Force, and the holder of a bronze star and an honorable discharge from the military service; and be it further

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby requests the President of the United States and the Senate of the United States to conduct and investigation into the actions complained of in this resolution and to take necessary corrective measures; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to the President of the United States, the Senate of the United States and to Mrs. Jacob Mertz, mother of Robert W. Toth.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF JOINT SESSION

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to announce to the Members of the House that there will be a Joint Session of the Senate and the House tomorrow at 4:00 o'clock EST to hear a message from the Governor, subject to the approval of the General Assembly.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 91, entitled:

An Act to amend subsection (b) of Section 1 and Sections 2 and 4 of the act, approved the seventh day of July, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1401), entitled "An act prohibiting discrimination in rate of pay because of sex; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Labor and Industry; and prescribing penalties," by further defining employer, providing for a penalty and deleting certain provisions relative to wage rates and collection of unpaid wages.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1 (Section 2), page 3, lines 4, 5, and 6, by striking out all of said lines.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Wlil the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, the amendments offered by the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler, at this time I believe will change the meaning of the bill to the point where it no longer will accomplish the object that we set out to accomplish upon introduction of the bill.

I, therefore, request the Members of the House to vote down the amendment offered at this time by the gentleman from York.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, this bill is an amendment to the act prohibiting discrimination in rate of pay because of sex.

The bill has several good features in it. However, it has one feature that it seems to me is a very bad one, and that is the passage you will find on page 3, lines 4, 5 and 6, because in those lines the vague language allows a large hole to be driven into the provisions of the bill which provides that there shall be no discrimination because of sex.

The only purpose of these amendments is to take out the three lines in question, which I believe will leave the bill a very good one, because the other parts of the bill have great merit.

Therefore, I would ask all the Members to support the amendments.

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I intend to submit amendments to House Bill 91 which I think will answer the objection of Mr. Seyler to the present wording of the bill, and in fact I think will do a lot bttter job than the amendment the gentleman has proposed. At the conclusion of the decision of the House on his amendments I would like to offer amendments if the House does vote down the amendments offered by the gentleman from York.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I would only add that the amendments by taking out the section in question would make it a very good type of bill as far as any kind of discrimination because of sex is concerned, and therefore I ask the Members to support the amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 2, Page 2, Line 17, by striking out the bracket before the word "provided", and Line 18 by striking out the bracket after the word "in".

Amend Section 2, Page 3, Line 1, by striking out the bracket before the word "seniority" and on Line 3 by striking out the bracket after the word "sex", and by striking out Lines 4, 5 and 6 inclusive.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I regret that the amendments sponsored by me failed of passage. However, the amendments offered by the gentleman from Montgomery take out the passage which I questioned and restore the original language of the Act. Since the only change, therefore, in the law will be the three other sections of the Act which I consider of great merit in this bill, I would suggest that the Members support the amendments of the gentleman from Montgomery.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 213, as follows:

On the question,

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. WILLAREDT permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILLAREDT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MORAN. I would like to ask the gentleman to explain the purpose of this bill.

Mr. WILLAREDT. Mr. Speaker, this would give the second class townships of the state the privilege of having their own department of health where it was necessary. It is not mandatory; it does not mean that they have to have a board of health, but it is to cover those townships close to the large centers of population which have gotten such a large number of people coming in that they need something to take care of the conditions which the State Department is not doing.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, does this mean that they appoint their own board of health, that is their secretary or the head of that board of health?

Mr. WILLAREDT. Mr. Speaker, anybody qualified.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, anybody than can qualify for the position.

Mr. WILLAREDT. Mr. Speaker, that is right.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, just exactly what does this bill do? How much revenue does it carry?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Kent? Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KENT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. The gentleman heard the inquiry.

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman's question what House Bills 1118 and 1119 do is simply transpose what is now known as the bonus payment upon the formation of a corporation in Pennsylvania or a foreign corporation doing business in Pennsylvania, which bonus has been declared by the courts to be not a tax but simply a payment to the Commonwealth for the privilege of doing business in Pennsylvania.

These two bills make bonus payments a tax and do not increase the revenues whatsoever. The bills are the same as the bonus and the same as the law is now except that it is a tax now rather than a bonus payment. It does do away with some reporting to the Commonwealth by domestic corporations.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, and the tax becomes deductible from Federal taxes?

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, that would be correct.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?
